VAN BUREN STAYING, HE DECLARES Police Bosses Do Lousy Job: Rider Mazzuca Should Get Job Back He Tells Council; Asks Radel Move

A plea in behalf of former patrolman Michael Mazzuca, injured on duty in 1956, and dropped from the police department, was made by Worthington L. Rider, last year's Economy Party mayoralty candidate, who, at last night's Common Council meeting, charged that "the men who run the police department have done a lousy job."

Officials, who have permitted Mazzuca's plight, he held, should resign, and if they do not, Mayor Edwin F. Radel, should request their resignations.

Rider gave details of the injury and treatment of Officer Mazzuca, who was struck by a car Nov. 21, 1956 while on traffic duty near the municipal auditorium.

Willing to Work

Mazzuca, unable to do full-scale duty, is still willing to work, and his bid for a job, he held, should have been considered.

"Mayor Radel," he charged, "has declined responsibility, because this happened before he became mayor. Mayor Radel can't avoid this responsibility. It is the responsibility of the City of Kingston, and Mayor Radel is the city's chief executive."

Rider, given privilege of the floor, spoke before a microphone, set up for a test on the city clerk's desk, and an audience of about 40 heard him say:

For and Against

"Gentlemen of the Common Council: I'm still on my favorite subject — the Kingston police force, but tonight I'm speaking for the patrolmen and not against them."

Then, after reading dates and details of the mishap in which Mazzuca suffered back injuries; telling also of his hospitalization, return to limited service and final discharge, he continued:

"Gentlemen, I have checked this information quite thoroughly, and I find it to be true. I have talked with Mr. Mazzuca, doctor, and he verifies the facts given here."

Hurt Doing Traffic

"Mr. Mazzuca was struck by a car in front of the city auditorium at 11:20 p. m., Nov. 21, 1956, while directing traffic. He spent several weeks in Kingston

Better Parking, 2 Shopping Nights Desired: Survey

A need for more parking facilities, preference for evening shopping and sentiment for at least two shopping nights a week were expressed in the recent shopping habit survey co-sponsored by the retail merchant's committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and the State Commerce Department.

These and other responses were aired Tuesday night during a well-attended meeting at the Court House, according to John R. Buffington, vice-chairman of the Retail Merchant's Committee who presided. Albert Kurdt, local Chamber of Commerce manager, presented Robert E. Barron, senior business consultant of the Department, (Continued on Page 7, Col. 6)

Marquardt Says Twist In Report

Former Special Officer John Marquardt, accused of a morals offense in the Reuter interim report on a local police department probe, today denied the charge and said:

1) He has never been called to testify before the Reuter Commission.

2) The arrest cited in the report was of a routine nature, later "twisted and perverted for political gain."

3) That, to his knowledge, Chief Van Buren was never "ordered to bury the affair," and

4) He was, in effect, fired, deprived of a livelihood and has been unable to gain employment since his dismissal from the force.

Charges Distortion

Marquardt indicated that the arrest cited in the report was made by his own conscience and (Continued on Page 6, Col. 8)

Aldermen Assured: Board Is Not Doing Deciding

Reply by the education board to a Common Council request for an answer on the council's request for a referendum before local action on school consolidation, at last night's council meeting, noted that action on the proposal had been taken in 1956.

The reply said the board is not required to have a referendum, but had asked for one, and was the first in the state to do so.

It was noted, at a recent council meeting, that the board had made no official reply to the bid by aldermen for referendum, and the city clerk was directed to seek one.

Authorize Garage

The aldermen authorized city rental of a garage at 32 Joy's Lane, owned by Orvel Kimbark, operator of Kim's Motor Service, to house the emergency truck of Wiltywick Hose & Truck Co., No. 1, a volunteer unit, which has been operating for about a year.

They also approved consolidation of previously approved "general purposes serial bonds" in the aggregate amount of $232,900, approved several traffic regulations, and left in committee a bid by Arthur B. Ewig, counsel for the Kingston Video Antenna Corp., for changes in franchise legislation affecting that corporation.

Resolution on Heat

Also in committee is a resolution by Alderman Richard K. Wilson (R) 12th Ward, asking for action on an ordinance aimed at "regulating minimum heat for certain buildings in the city."

Another left for committee study, offered by Clark W. Myers (R) Second Ward, and seconded by William A. Davis, (R) 11th Ward, would replace present two-phase red-and-green traffic lights with three-phase lights. Two-phase lights, the resolution held have contributed to accidents and caused near accidents in the city.

To Press for Taxes

On recommendation of Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly, the aldermen voted to retain Attorney William H. Fitzgerald, of Middletown to represent the city in its effort to collect back taxes from the defunct Ontario & Western Railroad. He will be retained on a 25 per cent contingency basis depending upon his collection of the back taxes. A total of approximately $16,000 is now due the city.

The letter from the education board, signed by Earl F. Soper, school superintendent, noted the clerk's office, requesting the reply on the council's bid for a referendum, and included the adopted resolution as part of its answer.

To Refresh Minds

The board held that it is the "only municipal body, which is (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

Would Add Extra Month

Assembly Votes Wilson Bill on Tax Payments

A bill granting Ulster County taxpayers an additional month in which to pay taxes without penalty passed the State Assembly Tuesday.

The bill to amend the tax law was introduced in the Assembly by Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock, Ulster County representative in that body.

A companion bill sponsored by Sen. E. Ogden Bush of the 34th Senatorial District is pending in the Senate.

Supervisors Started Move

Taxpayers enjoyed one penalty-free month in the past—January. Under the Bush-Wilson bill, if adopted, they could pay their taxes in January and February without penalty.

The bill to extend the time in which taxes can be paid without penalty originated in a request from the Ulster County Board of Supervisors to Assemblyman Wilson. The board asked Wilson to see what he could do to obtain tax relief on the installment plan.

Besides benefiting the taxpayer, the bill is an "incentive to the taxpayer to pay his tax earlier because the penalties mount sharply" after the first two penalty-free months.

The bill was prepared by Bush and Wilson after intensive study and conferences with state tax officials.

Under the present system of tax collections there are no penalties for payment of taxes in January. There is a one per cent penalty in February, one-half of one per cent after that until the tax is paid.

Under the bill, taxpayers would be given the privilege of paying taxes in January and February with no interest or penalties.

During the months of March and April the penalty would be one per cent. In May the penalty would increase sharply to two per cent. After June 1 the penalty would increase at the rate of one-half of one per cent per month.

It is believed that the proposed law would encourage earlier payment of taxes—payment before May 1 when the penalty increases sharply to two per cent.

Probe Continues

Steuding Declines On Waiver

Ernest A. Steuding, former superintendent of the Kingston Department of Public Works, was subpoenaed before the Grand Jury today in the road oil investigation. He declined to sign a waiver of immunity and testify, District Attorney Howard St. John said.

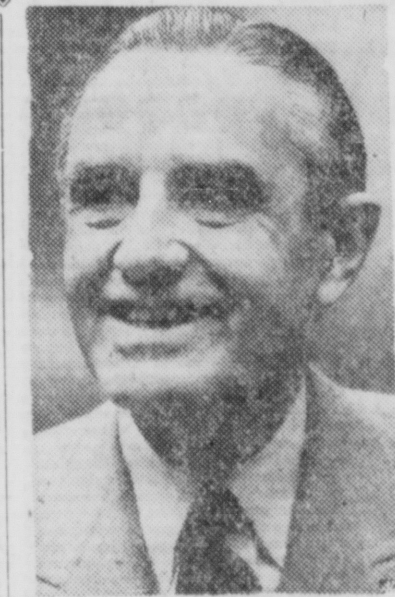

In the face of a partial report from the Reuter Commission in relation to the Kingston Police Department irregularities and the calling for the resignation of Police Chief Raymond Van Buren, the Ulster County January Grand Jury today continued its investigation into the charges of "kickbacks" to county officials.

Others Subpoenaed

Among those who were seen entering the grand jury room besides Steuding was the Town Superintendent of Highways, Henry Marl of Shawangunk. It was reported that others had been subpoenaed but no names were made public. Among those who are expected to be called before the grand jury is a representative of the Walter Truck Company.

Other witnesses, unidentified, were also seen entering the Grand Jury room during the day.

The life of the January Grand Jury was extended by order of Supreme Court Justice Kenneth (Continued on Page 6, Col. 6)

Clergy, Laymen Are On 8 Committees

Additional groundwork was accomplished by clergy and laymen of the newly-organized Kingston Area Council of Churches during the second meeting at Old Dutch Church Tuesday night when working committee chairmen and co-chairmen were formally introduced to the membership.

The Church Council began its actual workings a month ago when William A. Yates, a member of St. James Methodist Church, was elected president. Yates is a sub-contract manager of display system of the Kingston IBM plant.

Representatives of nearly all of the 11 cooperating Protestant churches, including both Kingston and surrounding areas of Ulster County, were on hand last night.

Yates said that the next meeting of the Church Council was indefinite at the time but might possibly be scheduled for early May.

He said he was impressed by some of the comment heard throughout the area following the first meeting and voiced optimism that the organization would continue to grow and to make its presence known in the community.

The Church Council president also reported that he has heard of other churches within the area expressing interest in the organization and said that undoubtedly the group would add new church members soon.

Harry Rigby, the former temporary chairman of the body before last month's election, voiced the hope last night that the local group would become affiliated with both the New York State and National Council of Churches.

President Yates intimated that this would be one of the early projects of the group.

Chairmen and co-chairmen named at last night's meeting were:

Christian Education — Harold Van Allen, First Baptist Church, chairman; the Rev. Cuyler Thayer, Rosendale Reformed Church, co-chairman.

Christian Life and Work — Chester A. Baltz Jr., First Presbyterian Church, chairman; the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, Old Dutch Church, co-chairman.

Christian Missions — the Rev. David C. Gaise, Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, chairman and W. Earle Rylance, Fair Street Reformed Church, co-chairman.

Under the general departments of the organization these officers are expected to hold forth:

United Ministerial Fellowship — the Rev. Everett Herron, president of the Kingston Area Ministerial Association, who is pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene.

United Church Women — Miss Ethel M. Hull, First Baptist Church, who is now acting president of the group.

The Church Council also would comprise the United Church Men which at present has no president.

Finances — Keron O'Neil, Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, chairman; the Rev. Henry M. Hansen, Ponckhockie Congregational Church, co-chairman.

Radio and Television — the Rev. William J. McVey, First Presbyterian Church, chairman and Arthur T. Pedersen, First Baptist Church, co-chairman.

Public Relations — Harry Rigby, Old Dutch, chairman and the Rev. Dr. Kenneth N. Alexander, St. James Methodist Church, co-chairman.

President Yates pointed out that chairmen and co-chairmen may appoint committee workers which will be confirmed at a later meeting. He advised, however, that leaders of all committees exert as much influence as possible in obtaining a good cross-section of the city and county in the makeup of their committees.

The 11 cooperating churches include:

Ponckhockie Congregational, First Baptist, First Presbyterian, Fair Street Reformed, Old Dutch, Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Trinity Methodist, St. James Methodist, Rosendale Reformed, Clinton Avenue Methodist and the Ashokan Methodist charge including Glenford, West Hurley and Shokan.

Clergy present for last night's session were the Rev. Harold J. Stepanz, the Rev. Kenneth N. Alexander, the Rev. David C. Gaise, the Rev. Henry M. Hansen, the Rev. Ralph Hughes, the Rev. William J. McVey, the Rev. Cuyler Thayer and the Rev. Dr. Clyde H. Snell.

Police Chief Raymond Van Buren today answered a Gov. Harriman ultimatum that he resign within the next nine days or be fired—he's staying.

Harriman, acting yesterday on a recommendation from his acting investigation commissioner, Arthur L. Reuter, who accused Chief Van Buren of incompetence and neglect of duty, ordered the chief to resign by March 15 or be dismissed.

Chief Van Buren described the Reuter report as "nothing but" a reaffirmation of a grand jury report made several months ago—a report that was "fair and accurate."

Additional information contained in the Reuter report, the chief said, is based "mainly on rumor and hearsay." Such rumors, when aired, do nothing to improve department morale, the chief said, in announcing he did not intend to resign.

Reuter's interim report on his probe of the local police department said he had found evidence of laxity and misconduct.

Official Reaction

Official reaction to the report drew comments today ranging from "no statement until the full report is available" for study to charges that Reuter's handling of the probe has been "politically motivated."

The statements of denial issued today by some persons named in the report were couched in stronger language.

Deputy Chief Robert F. Murphy, who, Reuter said, "has frequently appeared on duty in an apparent intoxicated condition and has required police car drivers to convey him from one tavern to another," said he, is ready to "face my accusers."

'Better Be Prepared'

He said whoever draws the charges against him or presents them "better be well prepared." Marquardt said he did what he considered to be "my duty as an officer of the law."

Attorney Charles H. Gaffney, counsel to the Kingston Patrolmen's Association, charged that Reuter had indicated Chief Van Buren could remain on the job "on a part-time or similar basis during the period of reorganization" (of the police department) and has broken faith with the local police board.

Text of Statements

Following is the full text of statements made today in a check by The Freeman:

District Attorney Howard C. St. John—

"I have not seen the full report of Mr. Reuter and cannot comment until I have had the opportunity to see what the full report contains. At the appropriate time I will be prepared to answer any criticism contained in that report."

Mayor Edwin F. Radel—"I haven't read the report and won't make any comment until I do so. The report hasn't been made available to me at this particular moment."

Hearsay: Chief

Chief Raymond Van Buren—"I have read the release of Commissioner Reuter. It does nothing but affirm the report of the Ulster County Grand Jury made several months ago. I believe the Grand Jury report was fair and accurate and that the additional information contained in the Reuter report is based mainly on rumor and hearsay."

"The airing of these rumors by Commissioner Reuter will do nothing to improve the morale of our department. I do not presently intend to tender my resignation as demanded by Gov. Harriman."

Will Face Accusers

Deputy Chief Robert F. Murphy—"I wish to emphatically deny the groundless charges contained in the Reuter interim report concerning me as a police officer of the City of Kingston."

"I will be glad to face my accusers at a departmental trial. Whoever draws the charges against me, whether it be the corporation counsel or someone else, and whoever presents them better be well prepared. I will have no further comment until the time of the departmental trial."

Attorney Charles H. Gaffney, counsel to the Kingston Patrolmen's Association—"Immediately after the February 4 meeting between Commissioner Reuter, Mayor Radel and the police commissioners of this (Continued on Page 7, Col. 2)

200 Dressmakers Go On Strike in Area

More than 200 dressmakers in three area dress manufacturing firms went on strike this morning for better wages and working conditions.

The three firms are Aby-Gezint Manufacturing Co., 14-16 Thomas Street, Maranda, Inc., of Saugerties and Uprate Manufacturing Co. of Hudson.

The estimated 200 area strikers were part of 105,000 workers who walked out in seven eastern states this morning.

The dressmakers are members of Local 259, International Ladies Garment Workers Union. They joined 105,000 other striking dressmakers in New York City and state, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Delaware, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Edward Kramer, head of the union's Eastern-out-of-Town Department which covers New York State, New Jersey and Connecticut, and local manager, John Riccardi, said in a joint statement this morning that this was the first time in 25 years that dressmakers have used the general strike, "labor's ultimate weapon," to improve wages and working conditions.

The union is bargaining with five employers' associations representing 736 jobbers and manufacturers. They are the source of work for local contracting shops.

Jack Palkoff, owner of the local dressmaking firm, told The Freeman this morning that he felt members of the union were "justified" in asking for a better contract. He did not elaborate.

He pointed out the local firm is simply a manufacturer for a metropolitan association and that settlement of the strike depended to a considerable extent on the dress market—the demand for garments, or the lack of such demand.

Negotiations were first held Dec. 3 of last year, with no progress reported by expiration date of the contract. The parties agreed to extend the agreement for an additional month to permit a longer period for negotiations.

David Dubinsky, president of the International, called a number of special meetings in an attempt to seek a solution to the deadlock, explaining that the record of 25 years of labor peace meant much to him "but that he could not permit the continuation of this record if it would have to be purchased at the price of sub-standard wages."

Riccardi said that dressmakers had not received a wage increase for five years. Among the union's demands for a uniform contract are:

1. Wage increase. The union is asking for a 15 per cent increase.

2. Overtime payments and paid holidays for all workers. Eighty per cent of all dressmakers are piece-rate workers and receive no holiday pay, Riccardi said.

3. Severance pay fund to protect workers whose employers go out of business.

4. A union label in every union-made garment.

5. Enforcement provisions. This looms as a key issue, Riccardi explained, since increases without adequate enforcement would ultimately provide no gain to garment workers.

With reference to the last point, Riccardi suggested this example: If a provision of the current agreement is violated by a New York jobber, workers here are deprived of pay. When and if the discrepancy of pay is noted, usually on a piece-rate, a complaint is filed and ultimately the workers receive what is due them. This system, which imposes no penalty (Continued on Page 7, Col. 7)

Signers of Tax Returns Are Held Liable for Data

No matter who prepares or helps prepare a federal income tax return, the taxpayer or taxpayers signing it are responsible for its accuracy and for being able to prove any claims made in it, local District Director James A. O'Hara emphasized today.

"This doesn't mean," the tax official explained, "that we don't welcome the assistance provided by members of the accounting profession, or by the personnel of banks and other offices who assist fellow employees and friends. Both we and the taxpayers so aided should be grateful for such valuable help."

Must Have Proof

"But, neither they — nor our own agents who assist taxpayers by phone or in person at our offices — can do more than accept the taxpayer's own words or records in offering help. So, if a return is questioned later, it's up to the taxpayer to be able to prove what he has claimed and entered as the true facts and figures — usually with canceled checks and other documentary records."

"As to itinerant and short-term 'aiders' who set up shop in small stores or perhaps vacant establishments, we do not recommend using their services. Many of them are incompetent, some promise big refunds which won't hold up under audit investigation, and few can be found if and when the taxpayer may want to check back with them on a questioned item."

Should Retain Copy

All taxpayers should retain a copy of the return and all records which were used in preparing their return until at least three years after the filing deadline of the year in which filed, the tax official pointed out.

Taxpayers who have any questions concerning their federal income tax return for 1957 are advised to telephone or visit local offices of the Internal Revenue Service.

Easy Method Told Of Converting GI Term Insurance

An easy-stage method of converting GI term insurance to permanent plans is available to any of the 3,200,000 World War II veterans who cannot afford to convert the full amount of their term policies. Peter B. Riley, Counselor of the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs, and Howard C. Shurter, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, said today. Term policyholders are now permitted to convert as little as $1,000 the first time and then any amount thereafter they wish in multiples of $500.

They pointed out that by converting $1,000 a year for 10 years, the full amount will be in permanent plan insurance within a decade. Annual dividends may be used in the process to reduce the cash outlay to the policyholder at the time of conversion.

The decision to convert is for each policyholder to make, based on his need for present and future life insurance, his ability to pay premiums and his family status. In some cases, term insurance is preferable. In others, permanent plans are indicated.

Permanent plan policies available to World War II term policyholders who wish to convert under this easy-stage method, Riley and Shurter further said, are ordinary life, 20-payment life, 30-payment life, 20-year endowment, endowment at age 60, and endowment at age 65. The premium rates for the permanent plans are higher than for the term policies at the same age of issue, but they remain static. Term policy premium rates, on the other hand, increase every five years until they may become prohibitive at advanced ages.

World War II veterans who have any questions regarding the status of their GI insurance or who have any questions regarding their veteran entitlements to any of the various veteran benefits should contact the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency office located at 32 Main Street, Kingston, or any of the branch offices in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

PERSONALITY OR POLICY?

Uncertainty seems to be the order of the day. But among the things that are less uncertain than others is the status of Secretary of Agriculture Benson in President Eisenhower's eyes. Ike, at his recent press conference, made it plain he is unlikely to yield to the clamor for Benson's scalp.

Admittedly the opposition is more vocal and better organized than it has ever been. And the pressure from a group of House Republicans takes a most acute form: a flat warning that failure to oust the secretary may cost the GOP 25 farm-belt seats in the fall elections.

But Mr. Eisenhower has heard the basic complaint—that Benson is vehemently disapproved by most farmers—for several years now. He has never allowed it to sway his judgment that Benson is a man of courage and principle doing a sound job for American agriculture.

To the extent that they see him as both architect and symbol of farm policies they find to be unpopular, Benson's opponents may be taking a stand they feel makes political sense. They believe that if the symbol is removed, the source of the unpopularity will be gone.

It is risky to try to forecast voter behavior, among farmers or anybody else. Possibly many farmers who normally incline toward the GOP side would indeed be impressed by Benson's removal, and stay in or return to the fold.

Yet some observers are questioning how deep and lasting their satisfaction could be if that objective were attained.

For "Benson's policies," including flexible farm price supports, are in fact Mr. Eisenhower's. There is no indication whatsoever that any successor he might name to the agriculture post would be permitted to depart from the course Benson has charted.

If it is really policy, and not personality, that the farmers object to, then their unhappiness would seem likely to continue either until a new administration inaugurates a new policy or Congress develops the votes to override this or a subsequent administration.

Now there is to be an automatic bass drum beater enabling the drummer to play several instruments simultaneously. This may not appeal to music lovers, but it should gratify listeners who are hard of hearing.

KEEP RED CROSS STRONG

This is a critical year for the American Red Cross. Its reserves have been wiped out by the great disasters that have buffeted the country during the past two years. Now it is faced with the gargantuan task of maintaining and even expanding its varied humanitarian services and at the same time rebuilding these reserves.

It is important that each one of us recognize our responsibility in helping the Red Cross toward its 1958 membership and fund goal. Through its disaster, armed forces, veterans, first aid, water safety, school and other services, it probably plays a more important role in the lives of more Americans than any other non-governmental agency.

We know from our experience of 1955 that if disaster should again strike this community, the Red Cross would be here. When our adults and youngsters want to acquire the skills of swimming, life-saving, water safety and first aid, the Red Cross is here.

The point to be emphasized here is that we make these free services possible. We are the Red Cross—every one of us—and it is to our advantage and to our community's advantage that we keep the Red Cross strong and on the job for us.

WHAT ABOUT AMERICA?

Max Freedman, the Washington correspondent of the "Manchester Guardian," writing on Dean Acheson, says of the former Secretary of State: "... He understands the sensitive nationalism of Canada, the need of Latin America for economic development, the shaken greatness of England, the tragic eclipse of France, the thwarted passion of Germany for national unity. It is because he understands these deep national moods, more important than the successive policies which are their brief and transient embodiment, that he is able to discuss various problems with a detachment and wisdom which have become almost unknown in Washington in the past five years. And he understands Russia, too."

All of this is delightful, but it is not also the function of a Secretary of State to understand the United States? I am not saying that Dean Acheson is a foreigner in his own country, gazing upon its monuments with the jaundiced eye of a critic from a tired European nation. I am saying that Max Freedman ignores the essential necessity of a statesman or a politician to know his own country, to sympathize with the aspirations of his own people. This must come first if he is to amount to anything at all.

The implied criticism is of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, because in the very next sentence, Freedman says: "He (Acheson) knows that it is dangerous, when it is not merely futile, to base American conduct on speculations about Russian 'sincerity' or to read moral lessons to the Kremlin on precepts drawn from the United Nations Charter."

And why not draw upon the United Nations Charter for precepts? Soviet Russia is a signatory of the United Nations treaty and therefore is responsible to abide by the terms of the Charter. It does not seem logical that the United States should be held to the terms of this and other treaties and that Soviet Russia should be applauded for the seemingly liberal "Manchester Guardian" for violating treaties. As Senator Styles Bridges said:

"The Russians are engaged in another intensive campaign to have us once again abandon our prerequisites. The Soviets refuse to permit a meeting of foreign ministers because they dislike dealing with Mr. Dulles—the man who was appointed by the President with the concurrence of the Senate to represent the United States in international affairs."

"I am unwilling to surrender the selection of our Secretary of State to Bulganin and Khrushchev."

Senator Bridges called attention to the fact that after 19 top level conferences between the United States and Soviet Russia, 40 agreements were made and only three were kept by the Soviet government. The Senator added:

"In the light of this experience, Mr. Dulles is well-advised to use care before entering upon new negotiations. If he did not learn from this experience, we would have real cause to doubt his intelligence."

The curiosity of this phenomenon is that Europeans call American nationalism "isolation," whereas they regard Canadian nationalism as perfectly sound; they regard the "need of Latin America for economic development" important but object to American participation as "exploitation." What are we to do? Are we to commit national suicide? Are we to reduce ourselves to a supply nation for European policy? Are we to reduce ourselves to a satellite of Soviet Russia?

It would be interesting to read a "Manchester Guardian" program for America and America's future. Lester Pearson of Canada seems to have such a program, namely that 170,000,000 Americans should submit to the leadership of Canada with its 16,000,000 population. Lester Pearson would make of his country a leech living upon its richer neighbors. Surely the Canadians are too proud a people to accept such umbrage. Nevertheless it is out of such stirrings of antagonism between two principal nations who have always lived in peace and cooperation that Lester Pearson got a Nobel Prize. A Picasso Dove would surely have been more fitting.

What the current attitude of Europeans and Canadians could do, if it became sufficiently vehement, is to stir a contrary movement in the United States, an "America First" movement, a "Buy American" movement. The recent hearings on the tariff are startling not so much that they raise the question of a higher tariff, but that they raise the question of a higher tariff, but that they raise the question of a higher tariff to show that we are thinking about ourselves.

Recurring Canker Sores In Mouth May Possibly Be Caused by Virus

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Today's first question deals with a subject for which medicine as yet does not have a good answer.

Q—What causes the frequent recurrence of canker sores in the mouth? I have regular check-ups and am in perfect health. I do not smoke, eat between meals or overeat.—R. A.

A—Although recurring canker sores are common, little is known about them. They have been suspected of being caused by allergy, psychosomatic influences or infection. Today the finger points more at a virus than anything else, though if this is true, it is doubtless a different virus from that causing cold sores. It has been discovered accidentally that rinsing the mouth with solutions of certain antibiotics is often effective, but this does not prevent recurrence and appears to be helpful only as long as it is being used. Obviously, further work on canker sores is in order.

Q—Is there a certain time of year when the hair is more likely to fall out? Are there any particular vitamins or foods that would benefit the health of one's hair?—Mrs. C.

A—I do not think that falling hair is related to the seasons. It is likely, however, that the hair will fall out somewhat more when the general health is impaired and when the health of the scalp itself is impaired, either because of poor circulation, the evidence that any particular vitamin or food specifically benefits the health of the hair is scanty, and my belief is that there is no such substance.

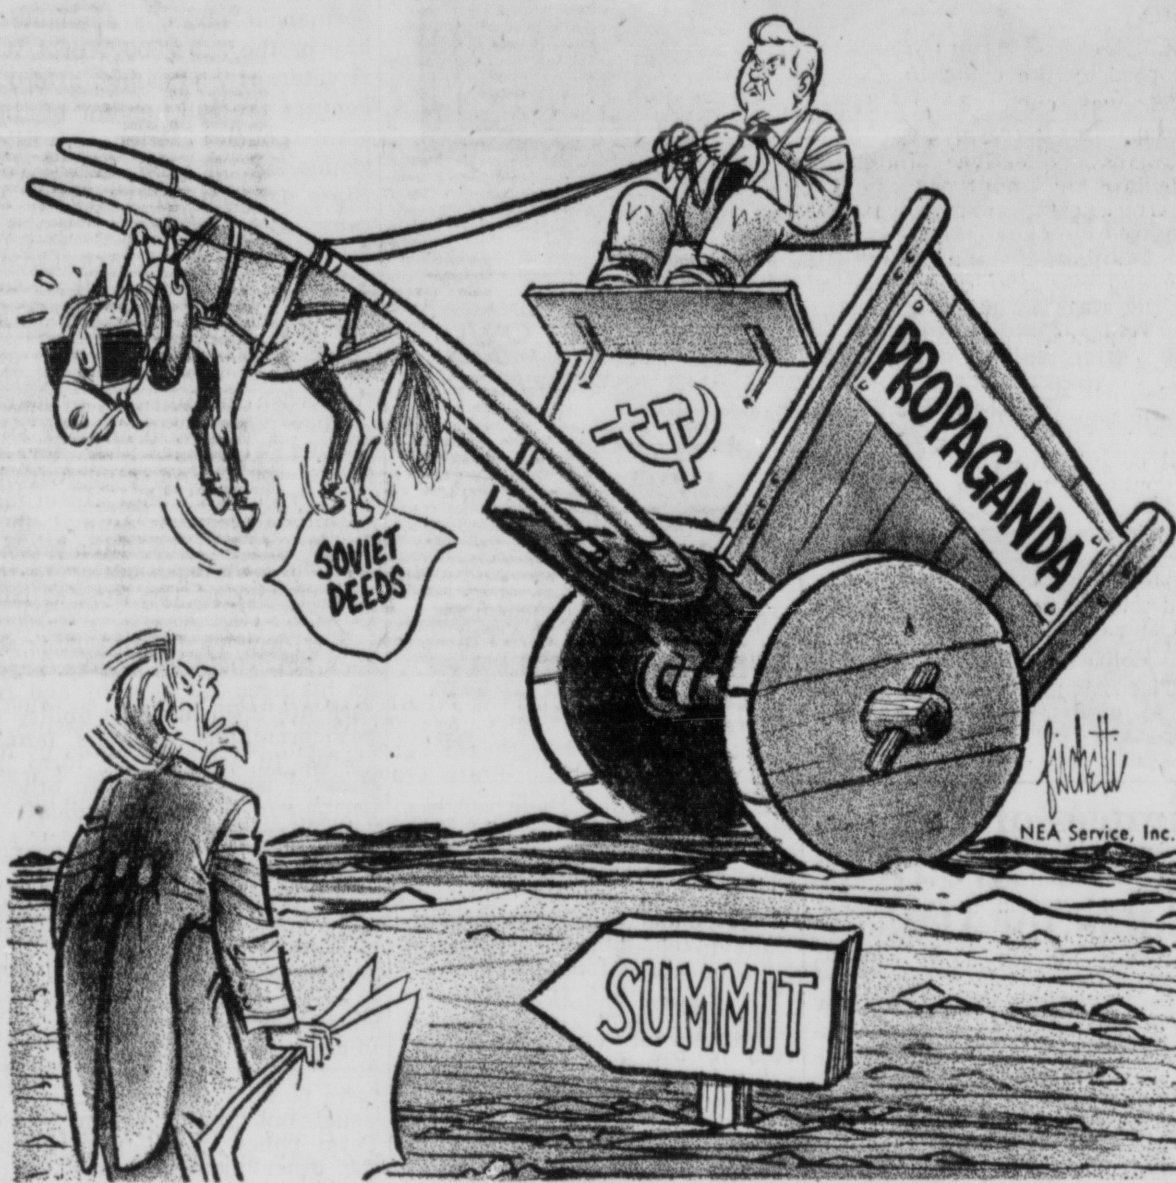

Q—Please say something about polycystic kidneys. I have been told that I have them and have relatives who also have the disease. Do they turn into cancer?—R. B.

A—This is a disorder in which many cysts form in one or both kidneys. The number of cysts and the amount of normal kidney tissues destroyed varies, and this in turn influences the treatment. The cause is obscure, but they are probably sometimes of congenital origin and run in families as is suggested by R. B. They do not ordinarily turn into cancer.

Q—What is the cause of inflammation of the pancreas? The pain is terrific.—M. R.

A—The pancreas is a small gland lying in the abdominal cavity which manufactures digestive juices and also the hormone insulin which has to do with the use of sugar. It can become either acutely or chronically inflamed. The cause of its inflammation, however, is usually impossible to trace. In other words, why the pancreas should be inflamed and not some other organ or tissues, and what it comes from, is still unknown. It is a serious condition; there is no specific remedy and the patient needs to be under frequent medical observation.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Soviet Russia's hydro-electric power production now approaches and will soon surpass that of the United States.

Individual power plants in Russia and Siberia are far bigger than the largest installations in America.

Grand Coulee Dam on the Columbia, largest U. S. installation has a capacity of 1.9 million kilowatts.

The new U. S.-Canadian Niagara power plant on the St. Lawrence will have a total capacity of 2.2 million kw.

But the U.S.S.R. has 10 plants ranging from 2 to 6 million kw. One is almost complete, three more are under construction, six more are in advanced planning stage.

The 6 million kw. of the Yensy River plant will be larger than the 5.25 million kw. capacity of all power plants at all dams built by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers in its history.

Five Siberian plants will have a combined capacity 50 per cent greater than all U. S. dams built by the Army, Bureau of Reclamation and Tennessee River Valley Authority put together.

This amazing picture of Russian power development comes from no less an authority than Maj. Gen. Emerson C. Itchner, Chief of U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. It is based on Russian reports put together by Army intelligence. It is fully supported by Sen. Allen J. Elender (D-La.) who visited Russia last year and was allowed to make movies of many installations.

TESTIMONY BY Senator Elender and General Itchner before Senate Interior and Public Works committees have given Washington a rude awakening on what was going on in Communist Russia.

Communist Russia's declared war to pass the United States in peaceful production. Only two new U. S. multiple-purpose water resources projects have been authorized during the Eisenhower administration. One is Bureau of Reclamation's Colorado River development. The other is the St. Lawrence Seaway being built with Canada.

General Itchner gives Russian engineers full credit for having developed construction techniques equal to America's. Since building materials are scarce, particularly concrete, the Russians go in for earth and rock-filled dams.

Most Russian rivers flow through flat country, so they have few canyons or high dams. But they have four notable dams from seven to 12 miles long. Fort Peck, longest in United States, is four miles. Only one Russian dam failure has been reported.

TOTAL RUSSIAN hydro-electric power capacity is put at 25.9 million kw., but this does not include 44 power plants whose size is unknown. Total U. S. hydro-electric capacity is 27.6 million kw. This is about 16 per cent of all U. S. electric power. Russian coal is of such inferior quality that more emphasis is put on hydro-electric power development than in this country.

The Russians are building a national transmission grid. Some of its lines carry 400 kilovolts 500 to 600 miles. These are far heavier loads over greater distances than any U. S. lines.

Russia is dispersing its power plants, developing whole new economic areas, says General Itchner. This breaks up big industrial concentrations like those in the U. S. northeast and so reduces and scatters strategic bombing targets.

Nearly all Russian water resource developments are multiple-purpose, for power, irrigation and navigation. They are financed by bond issues, says General Itchner. One such issue sold in 1952 was for the equivalent of seven billion dollars.

Russian irrigation projects are also roughly comparable to America's, though some Russian projects are larger. The biggest U. S. project irrigates a million acres. The Russians have five projects servicing from 3.5 to 8.5 million acres.

Flood control is no particular problem to the Russians as spring floods have been regular and high for many years and people have not settled on bottom lands. Few levees have been built along river banks, though dikes are erected in cities.

Q—Do penguins swim or are they strictly land birds?

A—Penguins are masters of swimming and diving and are most at home in the water. By using their wings as paddles, these flightless birds can stay under the surface for 45 seconds or longer, and can swim at 20 m.p.h.

Q—How large an organization is the Royal Canadian Mounted Police?

A—It has a uniform personnel of 4,700, a Marine Division and an Air Division.

Q—What is the correct name of New York City's famous "Little Church Around the Corner"?

A—The Protestant Episcopal Church of the Transfiguration.

Q—Is the Yukon River in Canada?

A—The river rises in Canadian soil, but two-thirds of it is in Alaska.

Q—What did it cost to transport freight overland before the introduction of railroads?

A—From 20 to 25 cents per ton per mile. It cost about $100 to move a ton of freight from New York City to Buffalo, a distance of about 425 miles.

Allies Declared Neglecting To Stress Summit Aims

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The Western Allies will not permit the Soviet Union to call the turn and play a frivolous game with the "summit conference" idea. Secretary Dulles now has clearly served notice on the Soviet's to that effect.

The only reason heretofore given for a lack of a strong counter-offensive is that "people generally" are supposed to be in favor of conferences that seek to make peace.

What this really means is that inside every Allied country are minority groups which the exploiting issue and are unwittingly playing the Communist game. The truth isn't being emphasized—that the Soviets are themselves blocking peace by their tactics.

In the Western democracies it is sometimes thought by various groups to be more important to win an election than to support the government of one's own country. The people of the United States are, for the most part, supporting their government, but the same cannot be said of the factions in the British Socialist party whose utterances are giving the Communists considerable ammunition for the world-wide radio broadcasts. In France the party divisions are even more pronounced, and the Communists actually have a substantial bloc of representatives in the French Parliament itself. The world may wonder but it gets no satisfactory explanation of why a group that is more devoted to the interests of the Soviet Union than to the interests of France is permitted to muddy the legislative waters there right along.

Viewed in Political Light
Under such circumstances, the path of leadership of the Western Alliance is a rocky one. The United States naturally has to consult its allies, and every new development has to be viewed in the light of what the political effect will be in each country.

Plainly, if the Western Allies are handicapped by their divisions and differences, it behooves the United States to map out a strategy that takes the ball away from the Soviets.

One way is to set forth publicly a list of things that are essential to the making of world peace. Too often in American reliance is placed on a single speech or statement even when, after a month or more has elapsed, the Soviets have turned the discussion into other channels and it becomes necessary to reiterate the fundamentals, not once, but again and again. Yet this is rarely done by America. As it is, the Soviets are represented as wanting peace and the United States as opposing it just because the "summit conference" isn't being convened right away. Spokesmen for the United States and the other Allied countries have made it clear that they all favor the "summit conference" in principle but that there must be shown beforehand some evidence which promises agreement on at least a few subjects.

Held to Single Issue
This is logical, but not necessarily effective, because it confines the argument to a single issue—what can be accomplished by a "summit conference" with all the Klieg lights turned on in some sort of spectacular show. It is beside the point to say America can play propaganda games, too, and need not be afraid of engaging in such a contest. For in the end the world is asked to judge between two kinds of propaganda covering a confusing hodgepodge of subjects, no one of which could possibly be given the emphasis it deserves.

The Western Allies would be in a stronger position if they demanded that the Soviet government take up now—and not at a "summit conference"—each important topic and state a willingness or unwillingness to make an agreement. The machinery for negotiation already exists. In every capital there is a Soviet Ambassador, and in Moscow there are British, French and American Ambassadors as well as representatives of the other Allied countries. Only this week the Russian Ambassador to the United States was given a private audience with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles at the White House. What more favorable opportunity could there be for reaching the "summit" than this?

Allied Consultation
The Western Allies should have a consultation of their own and agree with each other on a program of negotiation—point by point—and insist on getting results through diplomatic conferences in Washington, London, Paris and Moscow. Refusal of the Soviets to agree to such procedure would mean, in effect, that they discredit the whole system of diplomatic relations which has so long been established in world affairs as an instantaneous means of communication.

After a reasonable length of time has been given the Soviets to indicate their attitude on each subject, the Western Allies could publish fully their own views and leave it to world opinion to decide who really is blocking peace.

The whole "summit conference" idea is a diversionary tactic by the Soviets—a means of delaying the measures that must be taken to prevent a nuclear war and a method of taking the spotlight off the tragic situation in every country behind the Iron Curtain.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, March 4 — Thomas J. Clary, a federal judge sitting in Philadelphia, laid it down last fall that a competitive business house which hollers up the faults, defects and misbehaviors of an important rival and thereby impairs the "good will" which that rival enjoys among the public is a malefactor deserving terrible punishment at the hands of the court.

That is silly of course and there was a time when the Court of Appeals could have been relied on to throw it back with contemptuous comments on the judge's knowledge of the law and his intelligence.

Clary also reproved the defendant, a group of eastern railroads, for providing facts to writers who built them into magazine articles setting forth abuses committed by rubber-tired boxcars on pavements that are almost insensitive to the pressure of passenger cars. The court did not dare charge the authors or the magazines with publishing lies so the conclusion must be that the railroads sinned by encouraging the fourth estate to publish knowledge consistent with the People's Right to Know.

One of those authors is now a senator, Neuberger by name, of Oregon, who was a journalist by trade when he wrote the offensive articles. The court seems unwilling to impugn the honor and statements of other authors involved. Nevertheless, on the whole, the railroads and their press agent, Carl Byoir, of New York, now dead, were guilty of great wrong because their purpose was to incite various legislative bodies and electorates to enact laws restraining and taxing the trucking industry and to vote in favor of certain issues on public referendum. Again it would be difficult without special exertion of the intelligence and deep inquiry to conjure a more absurd challenge by a court to the political rights of the legislatures and of the citizens at the polls.

The time for a court to pass on a tax or a restraining law is after, not before, it has been enacted. This judge apparently would have forbidden these legislatures to pass such laws if he had been able. He flatly told the citizens of Ohio who elected Senator Lausche on the basis of certain campaign representations in favor of certain taxes on motor freight tonnage. This was beyond the normal authority of a federal court, but these are abnormal times and many lawyers have muttered in confidential surroundings that federal judges whip up their own laws and that higher judges uphold them on a theory that the judiciary will hang anyway one of those days and might better hang together.

By this dictum a Baptist campaigner run up Sunday school attendance by a spirited attack on the doctrine taught in a Methodist Sunday school and by sneering at the Methodist ice cream and cake, could be construed as a wicked violation of the Sherman and Clayton laws that applied here. The very purpose of alienating and, may we say, seducing Methodist brethren to the Baptist edifice, would be an attack on the "good will" of the Methodist group.

Clary cited a definition of good will propounded by somebody named Lord Elton, an Englishman no doubt, though possibly a fictitious character. I take nothing for granted from judges, but hold them to prove the existence of their authorities because I trust judges no more than they trust me. This skeptical works both ways and my word is as good as any judge's any day. Clary said this Elton wrote that "good will" is the probability that the old customers will resort to the old place."

Conceding nothing but assuming that this is true, does Clary want us to believe that one church may not lawfully try to win membership away from another? Reference to members of a congregation as customers is not vulgar here. In such a case, a customer is one who by custom resorts to an institution, i.e., a Methodist who normally attends a Methodist Sunday school. His persuasion or conversion to the congregation of a rival sect would be an injurious loss to the Methodist school.

Clearly, the Baptist Sunday school people would be guilty of the same wrong that the railroads and byoir committed in the hereby reserved.

MORRIS PLAINS, N. J. (AP)—A small outfit with a big name is making police and other emergency work easier for a number of surrounding communities.

Morris County Municipal Services, Inc., was organized 11 years ago to provide 24-hour communication service for neighboring municipalities that were too small to afford their own radio network. The system now operates air raid and fire alarms for five towns, and two-way radio service for 10 ambulance squads and six police departments.

should officially concern itself with such matters pertaining to education and has assumed its functions with clarity and dispatch."

A copy of the resolution adopted by the board on Oct. 4, 1956, was enclosed, the letter noted, "to refresh their (the council's) collective minds and alleviate any undue concern."

After noting that it was not required to have a referendum, the board said, it had asked for one and was granted permission by the state to hold one.

Depends on Rural Vote

Action in the city, the letter noted, will depend upon the vote in the rural areas. If the city is then required to act the facts will be presented in a "program of public education," before a referendum is held.

Meanwhile, the board advised, the proposal should be approached with an "open mind," and suggested that no "hasty decisions" be made.

Politics Should Be Out

Discussion, it held, should be on a "high level"—free of emotion and politics. It advised that not only the present problem, but "future lives" were at stake.

In authorizing rental of the Joys Lane garage for use by the Wiltwyck volunteer fire unit, the board empowered the city clerk to execute a lease with Orvel Kimback, owner of the garage. The company, which converted a former Telephone Company truck for emergency fire duty, has been using the garage for some time. The lease was authorized on request of the Board of Fire Commissioners.

Consolidation of bonds in the amount of $232,900, as authorized, includes several for previously authorized street and sewer work.

The bonds consolidated were $85,000 for major street work; $47,000 and $25,000 for resurfacing work; $10,000 for reconstruction of a section of the sewage treatment plant; $6,100 for improving recreational facilities; $19,000 for the reconstruction and widening of a street; $7,800 for a sanitary sewer project; $4,100 for curb work; $1,500 for a guard rail project; $8,500 for a sanitary sewer project, and $8,400 for reconstruction of a trunk line sewer.

Change in Traffic

Amendments to the traffic code as approved by the council's traffic committee and Deputy Police Chief Robert F. Murphy, who is in charge of traffic for the police department, included change of one-way traffic on West Pierpont Street. It will now go in an easterly direction from McEntee to Wurts Street.

McEntee Street will be one-way westerly from Wurts to West Pierpont Street. Other changes dealt with parking on parts of Green, North Front Streets, Lucas and Washington avenues.

Corporation Counsel Kelly gave a report on recent attendance by himself, Mayor Radel, and others at a discussion on municipal law sponsored by the New York State Bar Association in New York. He suggested that members of the council, as well as other city officials, attend similar future sessions. He proposed that at least the majority and minority leaders in the council attend the sessions.

Subjects Studied

Discussion at the recent session, he said, dealt with such municipal problems as stream pollution control, recent opinions of the attorney general, which affect municipalities, school district problems, labor laws, and many others.

A timely, related problem, locally, he noted, was the case involving the city and education board as defendants in an action arising of work done on No. 8 School, based on the charge that city employees, who did the work were not paid the prevailing wage scale.

Attorney Ewig's bid for changes in franchise legislation affecting the Kingston Video Antenna Corp., which seeks to erect an "electronics TV system," held that an existing ordinance does not consider the many facets of the job to be done.

Points to Weakness

A weakness, as of now, he said, was the provision that construction begin within 90 days, after granting of franchise. This, now, he noted is contingent on consent of the telephone company in permitting attachment of TV cables to its poles. The company, as yet, he noted, has not been able to process the application.

The ordinance, he held, should read, "within 90 days after attachment rights are granted." Also he said, an expenditure for engineering is necessary, and further time should be permitted for that.

Asks 20 Years

Also emphasized was the fact that "better than $300,000 will have to be expended," and because of this, he felt, the franchise should be on a 20-year, rather than 10-year basis. Other problems, he noted deal with insurance, and a required performance bond. The corporation, he said, would post a $10,000 bond, and not one of greater amount. He indicated that there could be a later coaxial cable cost, and he asked consideration of that point.

Alderman Wood's proposal on an ordinance aimed at regulating minimum heat for certain buildings, noted that the laws and rules committee has had the suggestion for "over a year," and that it was approved generally by the former corporation counsel.

During recent cold weather, he noted, both he and the mayor had received many complaints pertinent to insufficient heat in buildings. Some indoor temperatures, he said, were reported as low as 50 and 55 degrees. He also noted that Kingston was one of the few cities without an ordinance to prevent such conditions.

Andrew J. Murphy, 3rd, superintendent of recreation, was granted permission to attend the New York State Recreation Conference at Niagara Falls from April 27 through 30 in Niagara Falls. His letter, asking for permission to attend the sessions, noted that an attempt will be made to bring the 1959 conference to Kingston.

Fire Chief James M. Brett informed the aldermen that he did not attend the Memphis Fire Department Instructors' Conference, as was planned, because of the storm conditions here in February.

Payment of the claim of $86.35 to Mrs. Clarence W. Perry, of 3 Grand View Avenue for damage done by a blocked sewer, on recommendation of the corporation counsel, was authorized.

A resolution by Alderman Lawrence Woerner, Fourth Ward, asked for a plain red light on Broadway synchronized with that at Broadway and East Chester street, be placed at Delaware Avenue to permit traffic to get out of that street to Broadway. Another, with signatures, noted, a feeling against no-parking signs on the west side of Third Avenue and he asked removal of all except those at Third and Delaware Avenues, and on Third at the railroad crossing.

Alderman Arthur Smith, Eighth Ward, asked that a light be placed in the vicinity of 77 West Pierpont Street, and another at the end of New Street.

Alderman William K. Bodenweber, Ninth Ward, called attention to the condition of Augusta Street, just off Andrew Street, and held that the street should be made passable. His notice, he held, was tantamount

Pre-Dawn Call Gave Inkling of Stalin's Demise

(Editor's Note — Eddy Gilmore went to Moscow in 1941 for The Associated Press and remained there for the last 12 years of Joseph Stalin's life. Today, on the fifth anniversary of Stalin's death, he recalls the last chapter in the dictator's career.)

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — The telephone jangled at 4 o'clock a few hours before a cold Moscow dawn.

A Russian voice announced the startling news that Joseph Stalin was critically ill.

I jumped out of bed, pulled on my clothes and raced down an icy street looking for a taxi.

Great Story

This was one of the greatest news stories in the world. If Stalin were not dying, a Soviet official would never have bothered to tip off a foreign correspondent.

The immediate job was to reach Moscow's central telegraph office and get the news through censorship to newspapers and radio stations beyond the Iron Curtain.

I shook the sleep out of a dozing taxi driver.

"Central Telegraph," I told him, "and please go by the Kremlin on your way. And Tovarich, go very fast."

Behind the crenelated walls of this ancient building a ruthless ruler of 200 million people lay dying.

I thought of an old Russian saying: "Over Moscow stands the Kremlin, but over the Kremlin stand only the stars."

Though he controlled the destinies of an entire nation and the peace of the world, death was coming to Joseph Stalin as it comes to all men.

It was February — five years ago.

Struggle Is Lost

Until the early morning of March 5, the Soviets put out medical bulletins on the dictator's losing struggle for life.

Then on that freezing March 5th came the word: "Joseph Stalin is dead."

The broad streets of the Soviet capital were almost deserted at that early hour, but lights blazed inside the Kremlin.

Hundreds of cars were parked outside its walls. Inside, members of the Communist Party's central committee were meeting, and there could have been but a few among them who, down deep in their hearts, mourned this man's death.

Fearful Knock on Door

For no matter how exalted his position, every Communist official always knew that the knock on his door in the middle of the night might be from Stalin's secret police.

Along with the handful of other Western reporters then stationed in Moscow, I finally got my story to the outside world.

But there was one story that didn't get out. Lost in the momentous news of Stalin's death was the death—at almost the same hour—of Serge Prokofiev, the Soviet Union's greatest composer. My telegram began:

"Only in Russia could Peter and the Wolf have died on the same night."

The censors wouldn't let it pass. Natives of Iceland are largely of Scandinavian origin. Some Irish descendants also live on this Arctic Circle island.

Gets Costlier Fine

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—Modesto rancher Hermon H. Wadler demanded a jury trial on a traffic charge which would have cost him a $3.50 fine normally.

At his trial before Municipal Judge Edward J. Ryan yesterday Wadler admitted he ran a red light but said a police officer had trapped him by being too close to the intersection.

A jury found him guilty. Judge Ryan told him: "You have cost the court $100 by demanding a jury trial, and I am going to fine you the maximum—$53."

Wadler told newsmen: "I'm satisfied. I had my day in court."

Calls Lionism Way of Life in Talk on Tuesday

"Lionism, to my mind, is a way of life," Robert Pagnucco of Beacon, District Governor of District 20-0, told the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kingston Lions Club Tuesday at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

"It is a beacon light, which guides human life and carries it to great heights; it is a fraternity which stands for the highest and noblest principles and channels men's thoughts and actions towards the sublime goal of service which, in fact, is the basic underlying principle of all creeds and religions, which have existed from time immemorial in this world, and when I extol Lionism it is because of my sincere belief in its praiseworthy objects and its matchless code of ethics. It is my fervent hope that the noble endeavors of Lionism will bring lasting peace, harmony and fellowship in this world, in a not too distant future."

Loyalty to Trust

He said that while the name Lion has been symbolized in many ways, too many to mention, "the four outstanding characteristics that had largely to do with the adoption of the name are courage, strength, activity and fidelity. The last one mentioned, fidelity, is the one that had more to do with the adoption of this name than any other symbol. The lion has been a symbol of fidelity throughout all the ages, as well as throughout all nations, ancient and modern. It means loyalty to a duty and loyalty to a trust."

"To Lions, purple stands for loyalty to country, loyalty to friends and loyalty to one's self; and to one's own integrity of mind and heart. Gold symbolizes purity in life, sincerity in purpose, liberality in judgments and generosity in mind, heart and purse toward his fellow man.

"To Lions, the combination of purple and gold symbolizes cooperation and education, enlightenment and entertainment and recreation."

Commends Local Club

Pagnucco reviewed the district activities commending the Kingston club for its progressiveness and enthusiasm.

He also stressed membership development and education, whereby a sponsor and past presidents should guide new members in their indoctrination, teaching them the history of Lionism and acquainting them with their duties in terms of civic service.

He gave illustrations of Lionism in action in various parts of the world. There are now 577,218 members in 13,485 clubs in 85 countries.

Pagnucco said that Lionism encourages "true fellowship" which, in turn, dissolves racial and national barriers.

He was introduced by William Stall, past District Governor.

Estimate Duplex Fire To Cost Half Million

SHERMAN (AP)—A fast-spreading fire early today gutted the Duplex Manufacturing Corp. factory. The loss was estimated up to half a million dollars.

There were no injuries.

Duplex, a division of Pendleton Tool Corp., makes tool cabinets, sheet metal stampings, containers and other metal products.

The fire was discovered shortly after 1 a. m. by Chautauque County sheriff's deputies, who were driving past the plant. Within minutes the entire 1-2 story building was enveloped in flames, the deputies said.

"The concrete and cinder block structure, 200 by 150 feet was in three sections, the last of which was built ten years ago at a cost of $50,000.

The plant employs 33 workers. The cause of the fire was not determined immediately. Firemen believed the fire started in the paint room.

Check Rubbish Fire

Firemen were called at 3:42 a. m. today for a fire in a rubbish pile located adjacent to construction of a new nursing home at Benedictine Hospital. Engine 1, from Central Station which responded, used a booster line to extinguish the fire.

city, it was assured by Mayor Radel and members of the board that no steps would be taken to force the resignation of Chief Van Buren.

Cites Nolan Statement

"I also was advised that the chief aim of the board was to improve the morale of the department and restore public confidence in the Kingston Police Department. Mayor Radel and the commissioners also publicized the fact that Commissioner Reuter had indicated these same sentiments.

"In fact, the statement also was made to me that Benjamin F. Nolan, assistant counsel to Reuter, had stated that efforts should be made to enable Chief Van Buren to continue in the department on a part-time or similar basis during the period of reorganization so that the reorganization could proceed in an orderly fashion.

Says Faith Broken

"In view of these statements, after the full dress meeting of the mayor and the board with Reuter and members of his staff, it is, to say the least, difficult to understand how Reuter could now break faith with the local police board.

"Obviously, his motives have been political from the inception of this investigation and his most recent release confirms the belief that this entire investigation is politically motivated.

"The patrolmen's association expects, and I believe the citizens of Kingston are entitled to, constructive action from the members of the police board with whom we have fully cooperated. I intend to interview the members of the police board at the earliest opportunity. Chief Van Buren and Deputy Chief Murphy will speak for themselves."

Wants Official Copy

Former Mayor Frederick H. Stang.

"Until I see the complete report as it refers to me I do not feel I should make any detailed statement. I feel that as an official who has been criticized I should have been given the courtesy of receiving a copy of the report.

"According to news accounts I have been criticized in connection with the Marquardt case and can at this time state without reservation that the action which I took with respect to that case was thoroughly justified notwithstanding the innuendoes and inferences made by Commissioner Reuter."

Says He Wasn't Called

"It has been brought to my attention that Marquardt was never called before Commissioner Reuter to give his side of the story," former Mayor Frederick H. Stang told The Freeman today.

"Apparently Commissioner Reuter is more interested in rumor and false accusations than the truth and the facts. I would say that this is an unfair and unethical practice," he said.

Vicious, Says Quilty

Police Commissioner Lawrence A. Quilty.

"Until I have full access to the actual wording of Mr. Reuter's report to the governor, I have no comment. However, if the newspaper and radio reports are accurate it is a vicious attack on many innocent people.

Commissioner Robert S. Every—"It is impossible for me to conceive how any good can come from subjecting Chief Van Buren and other honest, devoted members of our police department to be disgraced in this cruel manner."

Commissioner Roland A. Augustin said he had "no comment."

"When his doctor approved light work, he reported for duty, but was not allowed to work. He received notice from the police chief that his services were no longer required.

"Now this man wants to work. He will do anything in his power to earn a decent living, and provide for his family—a wife and two small children.

Says City Negligent

"He was injured while performing his duty, and Kingston is responsible for him. Our city is negligent in not providing proper illumination for our police on traffic duty. I have come mighty close to hitting the officer on traffic duty at Pine Grove Avenue and Broadway. I imagine some of you men have had similar experiences.

"And now this man, who was injured while performing his duty, injured probably because of the negligence of our police officials, has been cast out in a manner, which brings disgrace to our city.

"No business or industry would dare do such a thing. It would destroy the morale of employees, and discredit them in the community."

Charges Mayor

Then, after charging that the situation was a responsibility of Mayor Radel, he continued: "Morale in our police department has deteriorated to an alarming low level, and incidents like this have contributed to this

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and selected issues gave the stock market a slight boost in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Key issues were ahead fractions to about a point.

Some losers spotted the list, notably among aircrafts and chemicals. Oils continued their recent rise but demand slackened. Motors and coppers also advanced.

The market was mixed in very quiet early trading. Prices firmed in mid-morning and volume picked up.

News of an upturn in the machine tool business, a boost in copper prices by a big Belgian producer and progress in Washington with the new anti-recession housing program were among bullish factors.

Steels were helped by industry reports that consumer inventories are approaching a minimum level. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic were all up fractions. Lukens added a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at $160.20 with the industrials up 20 cents, the rails up 10 cents and the utilities down 10 cents.

American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher in moderate trading.

Corporate bonds drifted lower in slow trading.

U. S. government bonds were steady in over the counter dealings.

Talbot to Check Payroll Abuses

ALBANY (AP)—Assemblyman Paul L. Talbot has drawn the assignment of making a "thorough appraisal" of the legislative payroll, center of a violent storm on Capitol Hill.

The Otsego County Republican, who heads the Joint Committee on Legislative Practices, was tabbed yesterday by leaders of both parties.

They told him to go to work at once and said "immediate remedial steps must be taken" if any abuses are found. But they added:

"Take every precaution to avoid injury to the hundreds of conscientious and competent men and women who presently staff the Legislature."

They said preliminary reports would be given "our immediate attention, whether we are in or out of session."

The uproar began when newspapers disclosed that some employees were drawing fat salaries on several payrolls and that a number of lawmakers' relatives were employed.

Talbot said last night he would "make an appraisal of the facts as they are."

"My personal feeling," Talbot said, "is that many employees of the Legislature may have been harmed unnecessarily by the manner in which this entire situation was made public."

on a jobber who misrepresents his work, actually places a premium on dishonesty and has forced many other jobbers to engage in these underhanded practices in self-defense. He said this is a highly competitive industry and only by enforcing uniform standards can wages be kept at decent levels.

Dubinsky said prior to the strike that he was willing to negotiate a compromise on many of these issues.

Riccardi explained that only dressmakers, not makers of sportswear, underwear and other types of ladies' apparel are involved in the present dispute. Many members of Local 259 work in non-dress shops and will not be affected by the general dress strike, he said.

Says Bills Would Improve Medical, Surgical Policies

ALBANY (AP)—The chairman of the Legislature's Health-Insurance Committee said today that bills filed at his request would mandate improvements in hospital, medical and surgical plans in New York State.

Sen. George R. Metcalf, Auburn Republican, said the bills would, among other things, set new limits on the reasons for which health-insurance policies could be canceled. Deterioration of health would not be a bar to the coverage.

Metcalf said the legislation would:

BRIDGE

East's Play Sours Slam

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

In 30 years of tournament play I must have heard a million complaints about partners. Occasionally a man will admit to a mistake of his own but even then partner will have made many mistakes. Hence, I could hardly believe my ears at the Nationals in Los Angeles when a voice said, "Gosh, did my partner play good bridge and did I throw him."

I made it a point to meet Dr. Henry of Colfax, Wash., owner of the voice and congratulated him on his great modesty. Subsequently I met his partner who showed me one hand where the doctor made a brilliant defensive play to beat a slam contract.

West opened the three of diamonds against the six-spade contract. South looked over dummy and saw that his best play for the contract would be to find the club honors divided. Hence, South's first play was a spade to dummy's king followed by a low club.

Dr. Henry who held the East cards didn't see that the queen of clubs was going to do him any good if retained in his hand. He also had seen elimination plays before. So Dr. Henry played the queen of clubs and South's slam had vanished down the drain.

If he had played a low club South would have gone up with the ace, drawn the last trump, cashed dummy's red cards and led a second club. Dr. Henry would have made his queen of clubs but would have had to give a ruff and discard and South would have made his contract.

My congratulations to Dr. Henry for his modesty first and good play second.

Funeral Set Friday For Ex-Rand Official

ELMIRA (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Friday for Joseph Straub, former vice president for production of the Remington Rand Co.

Straub, nationally-known expert on typewriter design and manufacture, died in a hospital yesterday after a long illness. He was 83.

Straub, a native of Wathena, Kansas, retired eight years ago. He had worked in the company's plants in Syracuse, Ill., Middletown, Conn., and Elmira.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Charlotte Straub and two stepdaughters.

Works Term at Hospital

ALBANY (AP)—Albany Hospital's emergency room staff has another part-time worker, thanks to Traffic Recorder John E. Holt-Harris Jr.

Holt-Harris yesterday sentenced Charles F. Norfleet, 20, to work 72 hours at the hospital after Norfleet was charged with speeding.

Norfleet will work Saturdays and Sundays, as does Harold R. Foster, 20, of West Sand Lake.

Holt-Harris sent Foster to the hospital recently following a drag race on city streets. Another young man was killed in the race.

Do You Remember by Sophie Mille.

Received a very pleasant letter from Mrs. Joseph Frankel of Saugerties, thanking me for mentioning her late husband in this column. Joe was always such good company at the Masonic Temple that everyone liked to sit where they could hear him talk. He was always full of jokes and stories and so well informed.

Mrs. Frankel wrote how much she misses him and well I can imagine. She tells me that he was editor of the Saugerties Post for 47 years. I remember at the Eastern Star dinners if we were lucky enough to get a seat at his table we hated to break it up to go to the meeting for there always seemed so much more we wanted to talk about with him.

A note came from Orchard Lane of Woodstock from Mrs. Fennell Franchling in which she enclosed two Flushing Remonstrance Stamps for which I thank her. Since I mentioned in the column about them I did get some. I put them in a cello envelope to keep, they are too interesting to use. Those are the stamps which deal with Freedom of Religion, Bill of Rights, Peter Stuyvesant and his Blue Sunday Laws and the Quakers who fought him and won. It is now 300 years, 1657-1957, since the event took place in Flushing. No doubt most of the readers interested in the stamp and this event have followed it in the press since December. I put Mrs. Franchling's stamps with the others and I think the event should be brought before the public yearly. After all it is part of our history.

The proposed Ulster County Office Building which it is said, will run some two million, two hundred thousand dollars to the taxpayers one way or another was mentioned for the Roundout empty lot. Of course that brought about much conversation with the subject of Urban Renewal from Broadway and Stuyvesant Street right down to the creek. What a lot of taxes the city would lose if those buildings, most of them privately owned and taxes always paid, were torn down in the some six acres for the new County building.

It is my humble opinion that years ago, folks also knew how to build good substantial buildings that are still standing. They were made of excellent brick, big windows, thick walls, good sturdy beams and iron posts and deep and strong foundations. One of these handsome structures is the Cornell Building down on Ferry Street. It has heat, plumbing, high ceilings, picturesque view of the creek from its big windows, lots of space for all the offices that I think are required by the county. It has always been an office building of the highest quality.

Another building nearby also of the same good structure is the former home of the Homeseekers Savings and Loan Association. I am sure, if these offices are available for renting or buying they could more than adequately house all the county offices and then some with comfortable quarters. What more can one ask.

The buses pass right past the door. Of course such a move would be nice for Roundout which only a short time ago had many offices and was able to take care of all the needs of the office workers.

Why We Say--SCHOOL

THE LEISURE CLASS: It will surprise quite a few school children to know that the word school is derived from the Greek word "scholē" which meant leisure. The first schools in Greece were attended by people of the leisure classes who wanted to improve their minds.

Mayotte Is Mayor

HUDSON FALLS (AP)—Clifford Mayotte is taking over as mayor here following the resignation of Mayor Henry J. Driscoll Jr.

Driscoll resigned Friday because, he said, he was "fed up with the way the village government operates."

The village board named Mayotte Monday to serve until April 1, 1959.

Lifts Fair Trade Price

NYC Cutting Service

ROCHESTER (AP) — Starting a week from today, the New York Central Railroad plans to cut its local ticket office service by 6½ hours a day.

In an announcement last night, the company also said Red Cap service would be eliminated by the end of the week.

It blamed the changes on what it said were "a sharp decline in revenue and the tremendous cost of snow removal in this area last month."

The ticket office was open 24 hours daily until last November when service was cut to the hours between 7:30 a. m. and 11 p. m. Under the new schedule, the office will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

New York has 1,850 miles of detailed tidal shoreline.

Dutch News Man To Be Speaker To Women's Club

JEFF P. van den BOGAERT

Speaker at an open meeting of the Women's Club of YWCA Thursday, March 13, 8 p. m., at Bethany Hall, Old Dutch Church, will be Jeff P. van den Bogaert, director of the Netherlands Information Service, a government agency of the Netherlands.

Van den Bogaert's topic will be "The Netherlands Today," a subject which will cover the Dutch-Indonesian situation as well as NATO and matters of European Integration.

Before joining the Netherlands Information Service in 1954, van den Bogaert was a London correspondent for several Dutch newspapers after which he managed the branch offices of the ANP, Netherlands News Agency in London and Australia, opening a branch office in Australia in 1943.

SHAEF Correspondent

During World War II he served in London as SHAEF correspondent with the British Second Army Corps. In 1945 he became Joint General Manager of ANP at The Hague and the following year became the managing director of ANETA, the Netherlands East Indies News Agency in Indonesia at Batavia.

In 1947 he returned to ANP management in The Netherlands, being located at Amsterdam until 1949 when he returned to Indonesia at Jakarta when the Netherlands-owned ANETA was transferred to Indonesian ownership and a cooperative news agency for Indonesia was established.

During 1953 he made a survey on the future of commercial television and radio in The Netherlands for Radio Nederland Wereld Omroep, being located at Hilversum.

The following year, 1954, he came to New York and joined the Netherlands Information Service in the United States as assistant director and in 1956 he became director of that service.

Born on November 3, 1911 in Bergen op Zoom, the Netherlands, van den Bogaert is the author of a history of Netherlands news services, and also of a study of the role of public relations in life insurance for the Association of Life Insurance Companies in The Netherlands. He is a member of the New York Overseas Press Club, of the London Press Club and for many years was the honorary secretary of the London Foreign Press Association.

Move to Clear Gen. Mitchell Record Fails

WASHINGTON (AP) — An attempt to clear the military record of the late Brig. Gen. William "Billy" Mitchell, whose sharp-tongued campaign for a stronger air force brought him a court-martial, has failed.

Secretary of the Air Force James Douglas overruled an Air Force board yesterday and rejected a petition from Mitchell's son that the air pioneer's 1925 court-martial conviction and sentence be voided.

Douglas had words of praise for the stormy, outspoken officer who died in 1936.

Says Nation in Debt

The nation, Douglas said, "is deeply in his debt." He added that Mitchell's views "have been vindicated" and that his "vision concerning the future of air power was amazingly accurate."

However, the secretary said the evidence submitted against Mitchell substantiated the charge and the verdict that he had conducted himself to the prejudice of good order and military discipline and in a way to bring discredit on military service.

Mitchell was suspended from rank, command and duty and his base pay and allowances cut in half for five years. He resigned from the army on Feb. 1, 1926. Records show that Mitchell, in his crusade for an independent air force, attributed a series of aviation mishaps to the "incompetency, criminal negligence and almost treasonable administration of the national defense by the Navy and War Departments."

He was also quoted as charging that Army officers gave congressional committees "incomplete, misleading or false information."

As the passing years brought major strides in aviation, Mitchell's stature as a prophet soared. In 1946, President Truman approved a law posthumously bestowing the Medal of Honor on Mitchell "in recognition of his understanding pioneer service and foresight in the field of American military aviation."

Son Leads Action

Last May 14, Mitchell's son, William Jr., a Boyce, Va., lumber dealer, filed a petition for correction of his father's military record. An Air Force board assigned to review military records for errors recommended that it be approved.

Douglas, however, said he found no ground for concluding the court martial finding was not justified.

They agreed last night boys need $9 a week and girls $5 for spending money and dates.

Milwaukeeans Keep Alive Art Of Potato Pancake Making

POTATO PANCAKES, made the old German way, Canadian bacon, applesauce—second helpings are a foregone conclusion!

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

Crisp potato pancakes fried in hot fat and served with home-made applesauce, and the Milwaukee Braves, are two good reasons why Milwaukee is such a justifiably proud city. Come Saturday night, come the pancakes, according to Mrs. W. F. Burbach, who lives there.

"Making perfect potato pancakes (Kartoffel Pfannkuchen) is almost a lost art," she says. "But it needn't be! Very easy to do with a pancake mix—makes them lighter and fluffier."

"Soak the peeled potatoes in cold water overnight or for several hours to remove any excess starch. Use quickly after they have been grated to prevent darkening. Add a hint of grated nutmeg or minced parsley for variety. Fry in hot fat just before serving so they will be crisp and piping hot. Serve with slices of Canadian bacon and home-made applesauce."

Rescuer Loses Suit

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Beverly Ann Pennock won a $1,500 damage suit verdict in district court yesterday and one of the defendants was a man credited with saving her life in 1936.

The suit asked $40,247 from the City of Broken Arrow, Okla., and Joe Robinson, manager and life guard at his swimming pool.

Beverly Ann's attorneys contended Robinson was negligent because she was on the bottom of the pool 20 minutes before being rescued. They argued lack of oxygen left her with a brain injury. Robinson and an assistant, Jerry Beller, revived Beverly Ann and were awarded certificates of merit by the Red Cross.

Sees Economic Menace

NIAGARA FALLS (AP) — Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) says the Soviet menace is more an economic than a military one.

In a lecture at Niagara University last night, Wiley called for a strong U. S. foreign aid program buttressed by increased, more effective propaganda.

He said Russia was making deep inroads in the affairs of neutral and underdeveloped countries and at the same time was spending up to 500 million dollars a year for propaganda.

"We are spending only $95,000,000 a year (on propaganda)," he said.

Stepfather Cleared

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Blood tests proved that a San Jose laborer could not have fathered the child born to his 10½-year-old stepdaughter Jan. 22 and he was cleared yesterday of the charges.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Margaret V. Morton said results of two blood tests were conclusive. She moved for dismissal of the paternity charge against Henry N. Lee, 29, who had spent two months in jail awaiting trial.

U. S. Needs Facts On Soviet Threat, Mrs. FDR Avers

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—The Communists are trying to chew off little bits of the world until democracy cannot function, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt declared last night.

"I don't think enough of our people have been told of the challenge and what it is," she said. "We have lacked imagination in government in the past few years. We need some facts, some knowledge and some imagination."

Mrs. Roosevelt and former President Harry Truman spoke to an overflow crowd of 1,300 at the University of Oklahoma. The affair was sponsored by the Young Democratic Club on the campus to commemorate the 25th anniversary of Franklin D. Roosevelt's first inauguration.

HST in Old Role

Truman gave his favorite lecture on the powers and duties of the presidency.

The former first lady said the real challenge facing the nation is whether we can meet the threat of communism on the economic, cultural and spiritual front.

She said the United States "has a surplus of food and the Soviets have barely enough. With a little imagination we could use that to our advantage in the world."

Truman, laying aside the cudgel he has used in past weeks on the Eisenhower administration, told the students and party leaders from Oklahoma and surrounding states about presidential duties.

Labels FDR Great

He commented on various presidents, carefully by-passing himself and President Eisenhower. Truman low rated John Adams, Pierce, Buchanan and Fillmore but praised Lincoln, Wilson and Franklin Roosevelt, terming the last "great."

However the peppery former chief executive leveled a blast at the Republicans during a morning press conference. He said the recession was brought about deliberately by the GOP to discredit the previous 20 years of Democratic rule.

Reverse Earnings Drop

NEW YORK (AP)—Revere Copper and Brass Inc. yesterday reported net income of $8,499,583, equal to $3.24 a share, during 1957.

This compared with earnings of $9,590,309 or $3.66 a share for 1956. Sales declined to $199,625,549 from $250,489,010 in 1956. The company attributed the

Toe-Dance NowWith Mack Gone Committee Probe May Lose Drive

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Now the toe-dance.

The House subcommittee investigating pressure on the Federal (FCC) to grant TV licenses moved like fire until it got one of the FCC commissioners, Richard A. Mack, to resign under threat of impeachment.

Its witnesses had all been non-congressional. But then one of them suggested the subcommittee call some senators who, according to the testimony, had intervened with the FCC in a TV license case.

Old Story

Right there the subcommittee ducked behind closed doors. When the chairman — Rep. Harris (D-Ark) — emerged, he said there was no plan to invite the senators to testify.

It's an old story. Members of Congress fall over backwards to avoid stepping on one another's toes. They are eager to investigate everyone but themselves.

The subcommittee's apparent reluctance to dig into the activities of senators — in connection with the FCC — reduces its whole investigation to a few simple questions:

Just how thorough an investigation does the subcommittee intend, or did it ever intend? Are members of Congress a privileged class? Will it let its investigation fade away now that it has put the ax to Mack?

This subcommittee was supposed to investigate the big government regulatory agencies which made decisions involving millions of dollars. And maybe it will go on with its investigation.

Far From Thorough

But it can hardly claim to be making a thorough one if it treats members of Congress like sacred cows and backs away from asking them questions, no matter how innocent they are. All this opens up an old sore.

Members of Congress get outraged that FCC commissioners receive fees for making speeches. They insist that certain high government officials—before they go to work for Uncle Sam—divest themselves of outside interests.

This is supposed to avoid a conflict of interests: meaning it will keep a government official from doing government business with a firm in which he has a financial interest.

But members of Congress can accept fees for speeches or articles they write. They can accept campaign contributions from groups which have a financial interest in legislation they want passed.

Outside Interests Too

And members of Congress can have all the outside interests they can accumulate, such as oil, banks, law firms, railroads, or farm lands and even serve on committees handling legislation involving such interests.

And they don't have to divest themselves of anything. In fact, they can make speeches in favor of legislation—such as a farm bill—which may mean money in their pockets.

Word Play

DENVER (AP) — Chief Gilbert R. Carrel of the Colorado Highway Patrol says some motorists and pedestrians stubbornly insist on their rights, even though this sometimes means their last rites.

The subject of the program will be "The Heroic Encounter." The illustrated lecture will be given by Mr. and Mrs. James W. Orser and concerns an understanding of the constitution of man which has recently developed as a result of a reinterpretation of myths and symbolic art of the past and with advances in thinking in depth psychology. Some of the material will be taken from a current exhibition in New York City at the Willard Gallery which shows and interprets works of art in diverse media from world-wide sources, with interpretative material written by Dorothy Norman.

The Forum programs are open without charge to area residents.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON
NOT BAD

Senator Goldwater, of Arizona, got a letter from a constituent that is too good to keep. Here it is:

"A friend of mine received a 1,000 $ check from the Government this year for not raising hogs. So I am going into the not-raising-hogs business next year. What I want to know is, in your opinion, what is the best kind of farm not to raise hogs on and the best kind of hogs not to raise?"

"I plan to operate on a small scale at first, holding myself down to not raising about 4,000 hogs, which means I will have 80,000 $'s. Now these hogs I will not raise will not eat 100,000 bushels of corn. So will you pay me for not raising 100,000 bushels of corn not to feed the hogs I am not raising?"

Funny, eh, what, neighbor? But let's go on. The not-raising of corn caused the not-making of plows. So the plow factory men got paid for not working (unemployment insurance, that is).

And the steel mill men and the iron miners got paid, etc., etc. Well, before long the country got tied up in so many knots that everybody got paid for not-voting for Congressmen and Senators.

With no Congress elected by those who did not vote, the old law of supply and demand took over, and prosperity returned.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — You have to dig to find the bright spots today in the business gloom but they are there.

Many companies and some industries are doing fine. A lot of others are far from being sick. Still others look bad only when you compare them with the record peaks of yesteryear, that bright era when the general business view was that there was only one direction—up.

Utilities Attractive

Some of today's stars are those that shine the most when many more cyclical industries are in a downswing.

The utilities are an example. Many investors find their stocks attractive now because the prospect is good that utility output will vary to a much smaller degree during the slump than will some of yesterday's favorites, the growth industries.

Also the earnings of this rate regulated industry are likely to stay on a more even keel. And most utilities are so sure of their future prospects that they are continuing with their expansion programs.

Stars both in earnings and stock market performance are the drugs and tobaccos. General business slumps affect them little. The same goes for the food processors and the grocery chains.

Outlook Hopeful

The American Chemical Society, after surveying chemical executives across the land, says that this industry is faring better than most other businesses and that the outlook is hopeful. While there have been cutbacks, these have been very spotty and not across the board. Chemical research directors expect to keep their forces intact. And many of the companies have further expansion plans in progress.

Big steel leaders see a slight pickup in new orders and hope for no more cutbacks in production from today's level—unfortunately just a little more than half of capacity.

In manufacturing as a whole, more purchasing agents report gains in orders in February than in January.

Several companies with orders stemming from the missile program have called men back to work. Others who look for more defense orders to come also are less gloomy than some of their industrial brethren.

Two Cheery Items

Home builders note two things with glee:

1. Government agencies that guarantee mortgages report a pickup in interest among would-be home owners.

2. Government agencies controlling the flow of credit have eased the general money market and have relaxed some of the mortgage financing rules. Contractors are also watching the move in Congress to step up the public housing program.

The home building industry is definitely less gloomy than it was a year ago—in fact, many in it are real optimists now.

Then there are a couple of items that may be negative for some but have their bright spots for others.

For one, inventories are still shrinking. To suppliers this carries the sad news that many business firms are still living off stocks and withholding new orders. But it also means that finished goods are moving out and the time is coming nearer when inventories have shrunk as far as practicable, and re-ordering must follow.

Then there are some price wars on consumer goods. For manufacturers and retailers this is a mixed blessing: top heavy stocks are being whittled down but at a crimp in the profit margin. To consumers the wars seem the brightest spots of all in this time of recession.

Judges Named

NEW YORK — Three busy Broadwayites have been named judges of a playwriting competition for the Stratford, Ont., Festival.

The winning dramatist is to receive a $2,500 prize and the play will subsequently be produced either at Stratford or by the festival's touring company. To obtain a contemporary theme, plays written since 1945 are sought.

The judging panel includes William Inge, playwright; Robert Whitehead, producer; Peter Ustinov, star of "Romanoff and Juliet"; plus Michael Langham, general manager of the festival; and Herbert Whitaker, drama critic of the Toronto Globe and Mail.

Fun in Korea

Even in Korea, two pc's find that the army life has its lighter moments, thanks to Red Cross Clubmobile Service. When the clubmobile girls make their weekly recreation visit to Headquarters Company, 1st Field Observation Battalion, drills, and routine, are suspended for an hour. Here, Marius Peck gets her team under way in a "water skiing" contest. The soldier on the gasoline cans is the skier and the stooping one his "boat."

Local Man Will Play Lead in Army Production

JOHN LEFEVER

Pfc. John LeFever, son of Attorney and Mrs. Lloyd LeFever of Richmond Park, now with the 11th Armed Cavalry Regiment in Germany, has been cast as Sky Masterson in the lead role in "Guys and Dolls" which the regiment will present in Bavaria March 21.

Young LeFever, who entered the U. S. Army in June, 1956, is in radio communications. He is a graduate of Dartmouth. Upon discharge this June he expects to attend law school.

He was recently on NATO maneuvers with his regiment in Bavaria.

"Guys and Dolls" will be the fourth major dramatic production presented by the regiment since arriving in Germany last year.

After the show opens March 21 at the Mansfield Casern Theater in Straubing, Germany, it will move to Regensburg and Landshut, then to Nurnberg, Munich and Passau. A performance is also scheduled tentatively at Augsburg. It will close in April at Straubing's city theater.

Methodist Church Elects Officers, Trustees Monday

Officers and trustees were elected at the fourth quarterly conference held at St. James Methodist Church Monday with the Rev. W. Bernard Grossman, district superintendent, presiding.

The three trustees elected for a term of three years were Warren H. Eckels, Harold E. Finkle and James A. Guttridge. Miss Alice E. Toole, succeeds George L. Berry as treasurer of current expense account of the church.

Officers elected were: Paul E. Jones, lay leader; Mrs. T. W. Reynolds, lay delegate to the annual conference; Mr. Jones, district steward; Fred P. Decker, treasurer of benevolences; Kenneth D. Riel, financial secretary and George Wells, Communion steward.

Summaries of the year's work were made and plans were outlined for the coming year.

Executive Confusion

HARRISBURG, Pa. — A salesman in a southeastern Pennsylvania clothing store decided after eight weeks he had had enough of his job and quit.

The Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Board of Review agreed the salesman had a "compelling and necessitous reason" for quitting and awarded him weekly unemployment benefits.

Among other things, the board noted:

"The employer would issue an order to claimant, reprimand him for following it and then countermand it. The employer would then reprimand the claimant for following the countermand order."

Most Customers Bargain Conscious

Survey Shows People Are Buying With Caution; Saving, Paying Bills

(Editor's Note — The American consumer is eating more hamburger, less steak; his children are carrying their lunch to school; but his wife is buying perfume and more clothing. Here's a look at how he's doing in the recession.)

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON — The consumer is the man who, sooner or later, will break up this recession. But right now he is buying with caution, saving more, trying to get old bills paid before he takes on new debt.

That's the story told in city after city to Associated Press reporters conducting this "How's Business?" survey across the country. Out in Reno, Nev., where gambling is flourishing and business is ahead of a year ago, a puzzled banker said:

"People are nervous without knowing what they're nervous about."

Waiting for Reductions

Retailers reported buyers are well-heeled but bargain-conscious. They seem less willing to pledge a piece of future income for a new car or refrigerator, either because they're less sure the income will hold up or because they think prices may drop a bit if they wait—a vain hope, so far.

The average consumer is drinking a bit less liquor, buying more hamburger and less steak, giving smaller tips. He is likely to buy a pair of slacks to wear with an old coat, instead of getting a new suit.

Except in the harder-hit areas, he has been making his regular church contributions and planning his summer vacation at the same resort. In more rarefied income brackets, he is keeping up his country club membership. Gambling at the winter tracks is just a few percentage points off a year ago.

A Nashville furrier reported: "My most popular mink lines this year are in the $750 range. Last year the most popular sellers were around $1,000." But he can still sell mink coats.

The survey suggested that the salaried, white collar employee hasn't felt much pinch. Even so, more are looking for part-time jobs, all across the country. And more people are letting their part-time maids go. More children are carrying lunches, instead of buying hot lunches at the school cafeteria.

Factory Workers Hit

Across the country, AP newsmen found, it was factory workers who were bearing the brunt of the recession.

Major credit organizations report that defaults and repossessions are up a trifle but the losses still are low—certainly not alarming, nothing to suggest that the consumer is overloaded with debt. This is a sampling of the reports given AP interviewers:

From North Carolina, a furniture man—

"I haven't sold a piece of furniture in a week, but my trucks are all busy—going out to haul in stuff people aren't keeping up payments on."

A big San Francisco department store—

"Collections are good. It could be that people want to put their houses in order and get rid of debt before they feel any real recession effects."

A United Auto Workers' official, Local 887, Los Angeles—

"I tell our laid-off aircraft people: Conserve your money and don't get into debt until the job situation improves."

Credit Tighter

The "How's Business?" survey indicated that in spite of Washington's well-publicized swing to easier money, credit is tighter for millions of lower-income consumers.

A curious byproduct of recession is an upturn, in some areas, in the luxury trade. Macy's vast department store in New York City reported it is selling more jewelry, furs and perfumes, and costlier ones. A spokesman for the National Dress Manufacturers Assn. offered a possible explanation for the same trend in women's wear:

"It appears that with the falling off of family spending for durable goods such as autos, they have more to spend on embellishments."

On Leave at Home

Frank Parker, disbursing clerk, third class, USN, is spending a five-day leave at the home of his uncle, Joseph J. Hovers of 135 Pine Grove Avenue. He is currently assigned to the cable laying ship, USS Thor. Young Parker is a graduate of Kingston High School and enlisted at the local Navy Recruiting Station, Central Post Office.

Berkshire Art Show Scheduled for Spring

The Berkshire Art Association announced plans today for its fourth annual spring exhibition open to artists within 100 miles of Pittsfield. It will be a non-jury show opening Easter Sunday, April 6, at 2 p. m., at the Berkshire Museum, 39 South Street, Pittsfield, Mass., and continues through May 6.

Entries which may not have been exhibited previously in any BAA show, are due at the Berkshire Museum, Saturday, March 29, between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m. Each member may submit a maximum of two works. All entries will be shown.

Entry rules are as follows: Paintings, in watercolor, oil or casein, must be suitably framed. Wires and screw eyes must be removed.

Sculpture is limited to work weighing not more than 100 pounds.

No official entry blanks are required, but all work must be tagged with artists' name and address, title, price and medium. Work must be removed on Saturday, May 10, between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m., or be subject to storage charge. This is necessary as the museum has limited storage space.

All entrants must be dues-paying members of the BAA. Non-members may join by paying the annual dues.

No insurance will be carried on the entries, but the usual good care will be given to all works in the museum.

There will be no commission charged on sales.

This will be the third event of the Berkshire Art Association's 1957-58 season, which opened with the sixth annual regional competition last October and included a show of members' prints and drawings in December. The BAA is considering an additional outdoor show in the early summer, and its seventh annual regional jury exhibition for October 1958. Further details on these will be announced.

There are about 200 artists in the association, whose "Berkshire Art Circle" covers parts of six states.

Janelle Ann Eaton Weds Ronald A. Brandt In Double Ring Ceremony at Trinity Lutheran

Miss Janelle Ann Eaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Eaton, 15 Shufeldt Street, became the bride of Ronald Alan C. Brandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Brandt Sr., 97 Hunter Street, Sunday, March 2 at 2 p. m. in Trinity Lutheran Church.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Dr. Frank L. Gollnick, pastor.

Donald Romme was at the organ. Mrs. Frank Sass was the soloist.

White gladioli and white carnations decorated the church for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of hand clipped rosepoint lace fashioned with a molded Empire bodice, long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists and a Sabrina neckline. The very bouffant skirt terminated in a scalloped court length train. A crown of lace and seed pearls held a double French illusion veil in fingertip length. The bride carried a cascade of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Frank Berardi of Poughkeepsie, was the matron of honor. She wore a gown of French blue lace over taffeta styled with a fitted bodice with three quarter tapered sleeves. A cummerbund of taffeta with a flounce bow at the back accented the waltz length skirt. Her headpiece consisted of a crown of French blue tulle with iridescent sequins. She carried a cascade of pink carnations and pink gladioli.

Attendants included Mrs. Donald S. Eaton Jr., the bride's sister-in-law, and Miss Vestella Allen of Kingston. They were attired in the same styled gowns as worn by the honor attendant. They carried cascade bouquets of carnations and blue iris.

Carol Ann Stahl, the bride's cousin, was the flower girl. She wore a gown of French blue styled with a fitted bodice and puffed sleeves, a bow front skirt with a scalloped hemline. A headpiece of blue and pink flowers completed her outfit. She carried a basket of blue iris and pink carnations.

Charles Brandt of Abel Street was best man for his brother. Ushers included Roger Brandt, another brother, and Albert F. Fassbender of Port Ewen, the bride's uncle.

Harry Ernest Stahl Jr., the bride's cousin, was the child ringbearer.

A reception was held in Tommy's Restaurant for approximately 125 guests. Music for the occasion was provided by Edward Acker and his orchestra.

The bride, who attended Immanuel Lutheran Christian School and was graduated from Kingston High School, class 1957, is employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Her husband attended Kingston Schools and is employed by Styles Express Inc.

After the reception, the couple left on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C.

Good Taste Today

TO AVOID BEING "STUCK"

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a junior in college and throughout the school year dances are given by the various school organizations in the gymnasium. These dances are informal and usually the girls go to these dances alone, or in groups, and the boys do the same. (This is a co-educational school.) At the dance most of the boys find someone they like and dance with her throughout the evening. I like to circulate around and dance with different girls. However, this always creates a problem as I never know how to break away from one girl after the dance is over without feeling as though I had left her stranded, and as a result I am often "stuck" with her for the evening. Will you please tell me how this situation can be handled tactfully and without hurting the girl's feelings?

Answer: This is a very difficult problem to solve and the only thing I can suggest is that you dance only with girls who are seated in groups so that after the dance you can take her back to the group and feel perfectly free to leave to dance with someone else.

Returning Unearned Bracelet

Dear Mrs. Post: I was to have been the maid of honor for a friend of mine who was to be married shortly. I have just received word from the bride that the wedding has been called off. Several days ago she gave me a very pretty bracelet for a present. I would like to know if this bracelet should be returned to her now that I am not going to be her maid of honor.

Answer: Yes, you should return the bracelet. It is, of course, possible that she may tell you she wants you to keep it.

A Teacher's Signature

Dear Mrs. Post: Should a teacher of kindergarten and elementary grades sign notes to her pupils as Mrs. Brown or Mary Brown? Most of the teachers in our school system agree that Mrs. Brown would be correct since small children know their teachers only as Miss or Mrs. So-and-so. We would like to know if this is right.

Answer: I agree with you that Mrs. (or Miss) is the best signature to young pupils.

Twenty serving questions and answers are included in Mrs. Post's booklet No. 504, "The Etiquette of Table Setting." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

B'nai B'rith Women Elect New Officers

Mrs. Arnold Pinsky was elected president of B'nai B'rith Women at the February meeting of the group held in the Jewish Community Center.

Also taking office were Mrs. Leonard Bard, first vice-president; Mrs. Harold Shorr, second vice-president; Mrs. Albert Feldman, third vice-president; Mrs. Joseph Murkoff, financial secretary; Mrs. Bruce Wally, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Melvin Mones, recording secretary; Mrs. Harvey Marcus, treasurer; Mrs. Paul Mezer, trustee.

The new officers will be installed at the dinner for B'nai B'rith Men and B'nai B'rith Women on April 19 at the Wiltwyck Country Club.

More than 60 members attending the meeting heard reports of recent activities in which the organization has been engaged.

Miss Irene Kaplan, Mrs. Ethel Meyers, and Mrs. Richard Kalish reported on the Heart Fund luncheon held in January to which they had been named delegates. The B'nai B'rith chapter was praised at that time for their work on behalf of the Heart Fund.

Miss Irene Kaplan, who also represents "Eyes for the Needy" of Short Hills, N. J., spoke of the continuing need for eye glasses which can be reconditioned for those in urgent need of them.

A request was made for volunteers to provide transportation for Cerebral Palsy patients. Mrs. Charles Forst is committee chairman.

Mrs. Seymour Werbalowsky, delegate to the B'nai B'rith Upper New York State Fall Conference held recently at the Mark Twain Hotel, Elmira, reported on its activities. The conference subject was B'nai B'rith Youth and Hillel, one of the most valuable functions within the organization working directly with youth.

Program Offered

Guest speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Irene Bohnke, certified grapho-analyst, who introduced the women to the field of handwriting analysis.

She described the origin of grapho-analysis and how its merits are now being incorporated in the fields of business, criminology, psychology, education and guidance.

Mrs. Harold Shorr was program chairman.

A sure cure for insomnia

You've heard the joke, "The best cure for insomnia is a good night's sleep." Not funny to someone suffering "white nights," but true, nonetheless. Too-frequent use of sleeping pills can be bad. Even if they do not cause true addiction they may have a strong psychological effect. Users sometimes come to depend on them. So sleeping pills—any kind—should be taken only when a physician prescribes, and only in the amount directed.

ADA Advocates Annual $3 Billion To Aid Education

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans for Democratic Action called today for a three billion dollar a year program to aid education. Edward D. Hollander, national director of the ADA, an organization advocating principles of the New Deal and Fair Deal, advanced the proposal in testimony prepared for the Senate Education Committee.

He attacked the administration education proposal as watered down and "dictated primarily not by the needs of the educational system or the economic capacity of the country, but by an over-tender and misdirected concern for the federal budget."

The Eisenhower administration proposed a four-year, billion-dollar program to provide 10,000 federal scholarships a year for four years to talented high school graduates. It also would extend matching grants to the states to improve the quality and quantity of high school courses and to make other improvements.

Hollander said because of "the awful deficiencies of the American education system," there is a need for a federal aid program providing:

1. Approximately $1,200,000,000 a year for the next five years to help overcome the classroom shortage.
2. Approximately $1,200,000,000 a year for a permanent system of grants to increase teachers' salaries.
3. An estimated 800 million dollars a year for a permanent scholarship program to be awarded on the basis of ability and need to 400,000 college undergraduates and 30,000 graduate students.

Asks Limitation

WASHINGTON (AP)—A representative of Pennsylvania and New York oil interests is urging Congress to place what he terms a reasonable limitation on foreign oil imports.

J. P. Jones of Bradford, Pa., testified before the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday on behalf of the Bradford District Pennsylvania Producers Assn. and the New York State Producers Assn., Bolivar, N. Y.

"We believe," Jones said, "that any extension of the trade agreements (act) should provide definite and realistic authority and directives to reduce, on a definite basis, the imports of petroleum and its products into the United States."

Craft Conducts All Stravinsky Concert

Some 2,200 persons packed St. Thomas Church in New York City Sunday afternoon for a choral evensong in honor of Igor Stravinsky, celebrating both his 75th birthday and his 50th anniversary as a composer.

Conducting the concert, with two choirs and a 45-piece orchestra in the chancel, was Robert Craft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Craft of Kingston.

Mr. Craft flew from his home in Hollywood, Calif., to conduct the program.

A review in the New York Herald Tribune pointed out that "we can easily come to take Stravinsky's genius for granted—most of us probably do. But yesterday the meaning of the commemoration itself, the environment, the awesome attention of the smallest boy soprano and the congregation above all, the music itself awakened afresh the unmitigated fact of this composer's incomparable stature among living writers, his place near the head of the class of all composers."

"What we heard was, of course, essentially his religious music, although the program was set in motion by the pointed sophistication of the Symphonies of Wind Instruments. And the neo-Baroque contrapuntal animation, along with the high good spirits of the composer's Choral Variations on Bach's 'Von Himmel Hoch' spread the mellowest of cheer through the great reaches of the church."

"But it was with the Symphonie of Psalms—and the Mass of 1948, too—that Stravinsky's great expressive powers took their firmest hold. The Psalm Symphony we don't hear nearly enough of in our concert halls. This is a key work in the composer's catalogue and one of his most prodigious; it is also a masterpiece, one that along with half a dozen other pieces, is the greatest of our century has produced."

The article points out that Mr. Craft was present to conduct the program "and one marveled at the manifest growth of his talents."

Bolder Sportswear for Men This Spring

Men's sportswear for spring, 1958 is bolder, brighter, more imaginative and inspired in its styling by the Caribbean influence, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. It is also neater, more conservatively colored, draws heavily from traditional concepts and gets much of its impetus from Ivy-clad campuses.

If this seems a bit contradictory, and it is, you must realize that there are two definite trends in progress. For men who take their fun and sportswear where they find it, feeling little if any compulsion toward conformity, the bolder styles hit the spot. On the other hand, the growing number of fellows who have adopted the Ivy manner of dress in their business clothes, carry their special demands over to their casual clothes when outfitting themselves for life's lighter moments.

Despite the diametrically opposed appearance of many of these garments, there are several factors that are common to each. There will be more washwear blends and finishes in each category, for instance. There is also a really big move to three-button sports packets in featherweight fabrics. Also, slimmer cut slacks are becoming the rule rather than the exception.

Knitted sportswear is another common denominator of the masculine sportswear story this spring. Knitted sports shirts in traditional polo models for Ivy addicts and in more imaginative models for those so inclined, are more popular than ever. Summer sweaters of lightweight yarns—both natural and synthetic—are high on the preferred lists, too, as are low button cardigans for the modernists and the old familiar crew-neck pullovers for the Ivis.

White is back as a spring and summer color for slacks, jackets, sports coats, swimwear and walk shorts. Some of these whites are served straight, while others are accented with touches of bright or subdued colors.

In the sports shirt groups, the Ivy crew goes for their favorite buttoned-down models in miniature plaids, checks, foulard patterns and, of course, stripes. Many others, however, favor silky textures, bold prints and novelty constructions.

Sweaters for Spring

Sweaters are a "must" in spring casual wardrobes. Mix or match them color-wise with slacks or walk-shorts. For example, black sweater with white flannel slacks. Shetland wool crew-neck sweaters are typically "Ivy," but there are also batwing and cardigan sweaters, some trimmed with leather, to satisfy other tastes.

Going Caribbean

A prominent color theme on men's furnishings, this spring, is Caribbean: bright red, green, yellow, blue, white.

The State Game Farm at Corvallis, Ore., specializes in Chinese pheasants.

School Lunch Leaders Attend Conference at Syracuse University

Mrs. Catherine D. Ellsworth, director of the Kingston Schools' Lunch Program, attended a conference sponsored by Syracuse University and the School Lunch Unit of the Bureau of Home Economics Education of the State Education Department held for leaders in the program.

The February conference of more than 75 people actively engaged as directors, managers of school lunch programs or in training students, was held at the university.

A welcoming address was given by Dr. Evelyn Herrington of the Home Economics School of the University.

The program was planned to assist in developing in-service training programs in school systems in order that personnel might be trained to facilitate their work.

Current information on financing school lunch programs and the direct distribution of commodities was also discussed by Fred Frick of the State Education Department.

Richard Young from the office of Buildings and Grounds, State Education Department, was helpful in his discussion of trends in lunchroom planning. His topic was timely in these days of school district and building expansion.

Dean Hilton of the School of Home Economics, addressed the group at dinner.

The conference was held February 28-March 1.

Banquet Is Held For Cub Pack 15 1st Anniversary

Cub Pack 15 sponsored by the Spring Lake Fire Department, Inc., celebrated one year of progress and growth last night with a Blue and Gold Banquet attended by over 40 parents and guests. A year ago Neighborhood Den 15 was organized with a small committee and about six Cub Scouts. Upon renewal of their charter this year two dens were organized and 10 Cub Scouts were enrolled, all received Boy's Life Magazines.

The Banquet was served covered dish style and Cubmaster Chester Androvich was toastmaster for the evening. The program featured a dramatization of how the idea of Scouting was brought to America by a man who lost his direction in a London fog and was given assistance by a lad of the newly organized Boy Scouts of England. The charter for the new year was presented and 100% Boy's Life manner was displayed.

William Bruce, Bear Cub Scout, read the pack history: "The following are the largest stepping stones on our Cub Trail! The Neighborhood Den Charter was received on January 31, 1957. We all made costumes and played Indians at the Pack meeting in March. The entire Den marched in the Memorial Day parade in May. In June we went on a fishing trip to DeWitt Lake, and baked fish over the outdoor fire at the pack meeting. Held an October Field Trip to beaver dams and caves in Eddyville. The Yule Log project brought in a substantial profit part of which was donated to the Scout World Fellowship Fund as a Christmas Gift. In February we became movie producers and actors."

Cubmaster Androvich and Mrs. Bruce held Akela's Council and the advancements in the Pack were awarded. Achievements were as follows: Gregory Androvich, denner stripe and one year service star; Jan Bell, one year star; William Bruce, Bear badge, gold arrow and service star; Vincent Bruck, denner's stripe, one gold and four silver arrows; Michael Davis, Wolf badge, one gold and three silver arrows; Michael Greenwald, one year star and assistant denner stripe; David Hyatt, Wolf badge, gold arrow and assistant denner stripe. Barry Kleinman was inducted to the Pack as a Bobcat. Merrill Lynch was welcomed to the Pack from Carthage, Mo., and Bruce Sumner received a one year service star.

The banquet hall was decorated in blue and gold streamers. Mothers wore corsages made by the Cub Scouts. District Commissioner Edward Safford gave congratulations upon the anniversary wishing the best for progress in the next year. Mr. Safford in turn introduced Donald Jameson, neighborhood commissioner, who will serve Pack 15 and be the liaison for District Committee activities.

State GOP Urges Camp Drum Be on Permanent Basis

WASHINGTON (AP)—A potent congressional combination today places before Secretary of the Army Brucker a demand that Camp Drum, N. Y., be made a permanent facility.

The request, scheduled to be presented at a conference arranged by the White House, will come from Sens. Ives and Javits and Reps. Taber and Kilburn, all New York Republicans.

A six-member Northern New York group also is joining in the discussion, being held in Brucker's Pentagon office.

Summer Occupation

Camp Drum, a 117,000-acre military reservation located near Watertown, N. Y., now is operated in the summer and early fall months as a training area for Army reserve and National Guard troops. The camp is contained in Kilburn's congressional district, a part of the First Army command.

Kilburn has sought since 1953 to make the camp permanent.

He was unsuccessful in his proposal that the huge reservation be turned over to the Air Force for establishment of a Strategic Air Command base that finally was located—at a cost of over 100 million dollars—at Plattsburgh, N. Y., roughly 100 miles to the northeast of Camp Drum.

The Army, Kilburn said, refused to make the site available to the Air Force.

Others at Parley

Kilburn, prior to today's conference, said Lt. Gen. B. M. Bray, commander of the First Army, has recommended that several "select" Army units be maintained at Drum on a permanent basis.

The local group joining in the conference included: Willard P. Beach, Alexandria Bay, N. Y., president of the Jefferson County (N. Y.) Assn. of Chambers of Commerce; Floyd E. Ruble, secretary and manager of the Watertown, N. Y., Chamber of Commerce; John A. McKenna, Carthage, N. Y., Alvie M. Edwards, Frederick H. Taylor Jr., and John B. Johnson, all of Watertown.

Macy, Newspaper Suit Is Settled

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Congressman W. Kingsland Macy's 1950 libel suit against the New York World-Telegram & Sun has been settled out of court.

Attorneys for the newspaper and the one-time Suffolk County Republican leader announced the settlement yesterday. Both sides called the settlement satisfactory. The terms were not disclosed.

In addition to the joint announcement, the newspaper said that in the article that was the basis of the suit it did not intend any injury to Macy, his good name, credit or reputation, and the article was published without malice.

Macy sued for $250,000 on the basis of a story concerning the politically explosive "Hanley letter" which figured in the 1950 state political campaign.

A jury awarded Macy $50,000 damages on Feb. 18, 1955. The newspaper appealed and a new trial was ordered. No new trial was held, however.

Macy contended in his suit that he was damaged when the newspaper reported on Oct. 18, 1950, that the "Hanley letter" was circulated at the Republican state convention at Saratoga Springs "to further the senatorial ambitions" of Macy.

The author of the letter was Joe R. Hanley, then Republican lieutenant governor under Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. Hanley had expressed interest in the Republican nomination for governor at a time when Dewey had indicated he might not be a candidate for another term.

Comedian Undismayed

NEW YORK (AP)—Comedian Bob Hope returned from London today, apparently undismayed over his inability to obtain a visa to go to Moscow.

Hope said after his arrival here that he had planned to take two writers, a photographer and a press representative to Moscow to interview top officials and do a television show.

Hope said he would contact the Russian embassy later today while in Washington. He was fairly certain he could make a trip to Moscow by the middle of this month.

Ideal for Launching Air Force Is Planning For 'Motionless Moon'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force has plans for a "motionless moon" that will hang at a certain point in the sky, day and night, oscillating gently.

The experts say it would be wonderful as a radio and television relay station, or for counting cosmic rays or observing weather. Also as a launching platform in space, for a missile with a thermonuclear warhead.

To Hover at Fixed Point

Lt. Gen. C. S. Irvine, Air Force chief of materiel, told the Armed Forces Communications Electronics Assn. at Washington yesterday that the Air Force is studying a proposal for a satellite that would hover over a fixed point on the earth.

Irvine said the vehicle, 20,000 miles out in space, would be ideal for missile launching.

He said it would be relatively simple to aim a missile from such a fixed point above a target on the earth.

Irvine added that in the absence of atmospheric resistance, only a comparatively small amount of rocket thrust would be needed to start the missile on its way.

Further details were made available by persons at the Air Force Missile Test Center here who are familiar with the Air Force planning.

In Circular Orbit

The stationary moon would be hurled to an altitude of 22,000 miles and sent into a circular orbit. Traveling parallel to the equator at a speed of 8,000 or 9,000 miles an hour, depending upon its latitude, it would complete an orbit around the earth once a day.

But the earth also rotates once a day. The satellite, moving in the same direction, merely would keep pace with the earth.

Should the artificial moon start its orbit over Miami, for example, it would remain over that city forever, never rising or setting.

But because the earth is not a perfect sphere, because of the gravitational influence of the moon and for other reasons, the satellite would develop in time a slight irregularity.

As viewed from the earth, it would seem to go ahead of itself and then in compensation would tend to retard, about once a minute. Thus it would seem to make a slight swinging or oscillating movement, distinct enough to catch the eye if it were large enough or bright enough to be visible.

It could be highly effective as a propaganda or advertising device.

Train Hits Car, 3 Children Die

CARLYLE, Ill. (AP)—A west-bound Baltimore and Ohio Railroad freight train struck a car loaded with schoolchildren at an unguarded crossing today.

Three children, all members of one family, were killed. A 33-year-old passenger died an hour later.

The dead are three of the 10 children of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Berry of Carlyle. They were identified as Irene, 15; Phyllis, 14, and Flora Kay, 9. Berry's brother-in-law, Eugene Higgins, died in a hospital an hour after the accident.

The driver of the car, Lester Berry, 18, and a young brother, Allen, 7, were seriously injured. Higgins, who had gone along for the ride, was married and the father of four.

The car was en route to the Carlyle grade school. The impact hurled the auto about 100 feet.

Submarine Builder

The shipyard at Malmö in Southern Sweden recently turned out its 29th submarine, and was immediately ordered to build another series of six.

Claims Sub Record

PORTLAND, England (AP)—The nuclear-powered American submarine Skate docked at this British naval base today and its skipper claimed a record for the fastest transatlantic crossing from the United States ever made by a submarine.

The sleek, lead-colored sub crossed the Atlantic in 8 days 11 hours—traveling under water all the way.

"That's the way to travel," said the skipper, Cmdr. James F. Calvert. "I've never been so enthusiastic about any ship in my life."

"Our time of 203 hours beat anything ever done by a submarine coming from the United States to Europe."

Helicopter Nabs Stolen Car, Tree, Traffic Assist

NEW YORK (AP)—A police helicopter caught a stolen car in a bizarre chase in Queens yesterday. A tree and heavy traffic assisted.

Sgt. Harold Behrens, veteran flying policeman, and Patrolman William Reis were on a routine patrol over the Jamaica Bay area when they spotted five suspicious looking youths in a lot.

The helicopter whirled down and the youths turned tail, piling into a parked car. The chase was on. For 20 minutes the car and helicopter zig-zagged over six miles. The car hit speeds up to 100 miles an hour. The helicopter was limited to its top speed of 95 miles an hour.

Behrens, using an amplified megaphone, ordered the youths to stop.

When the car was slowed down by heavy traffic the two officers swooped down to hand-signal the youths to pull over. They paid no attention, the officers said, and kept going. The boys' luck ran out when they hit a tree.

Reis landed the helicopter on the grounds of nearby Aqueduct race track. He and Behrens jumped out, hailed a cab and went to the crash scene.

There the officers captured William Hurley, 16, the driver, who was later booked on a grand larceny charge, and two 14-year-olds who were held as juvenile delinquents. The other two youths escaped on foot.

Retired Man Hunts for Bargains in 'Paradise'

By BEULAH STOWE

"A lot of these bargain 'paradises' for retirement are not bargains at all," complains Mr. F. B. B. of Jefferson City, Tenn.

"A book I read on where to retire said that a man and his wife could retire permanently on $200 a month in Mexico. According to the American Embassy in Mexico City, it requires about $480 a month per couple.

"This same guidebook recommended Hot Springs, Ark., as a desirable abode for low-income people. We lived there last year and there just ain't no bargains there. Everyone is treated like a tourist."

Hot Springs is a resort, and a resort is hardly ever a bargain. If you had tried a non-tourist city in Arkansas, a farm, or a small town, you would have found living costs lower than they are in most states.

Don't be easily discouraged on costs in Mexico, either. Mexico is cheap only outside Mexico City. In the Guadalajara-Lake Chapala area, where many retired Americans have settled, a modern furnished house rents for about $60 a month, and food and servants are reasonable compared to the United States.

You will have to adapt your tastes in food and service to fit Mexican standards, however. If you are going to insist on American frozen foods flown in by plane—better stay in the U. S.

Go and visit Mexico on a tourist card (available from the Mexican Consul in any large city or from the Mexican Embassy in Washington) before you discard it as a "bargain paradise." If you hold to your U. S. citizenship, it need not cost you $480 a month.

Some retired people have found the foreign flavor and the slow relaxed pace of the country just what they wanted. Others have found it too "foreign" to choose it as a permanent home.

Q—"Where can I get a list of stocks paying 5 per cent interest, like you mentioned?" — F. O. S.

A—"From an investment counselor at a broker's office, or from a banker, in case your town does not have a stockbroker. But keep in mind that stock that pays 5 per cent interest now may not next year, and at any time your investment can drop quickly in value—or rise. Many wise people invest in stocks. But it is always a gamble.

Q—"How does Social Security figure that a man who has been making $110 a week is going to live on $108 a month?" — A. R.

A—"I doubt if Social Security is figuring that particular problem. But you're not so bad off as you think. You aren't making $110 a week. Take out income tax, Social Security tax, your lodge and union dues, your transportation to job and back, your lunch and your work clothes, and see what you've got left. It will make you feel better.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Sunday is becoming a day heavily devoted to survival on television. Last Sunday, for example:

Charles Van Doren conducted a half-hour NBC-TV study of "Satellites, Schools and Survival" prepared by the National Education Assn. In this excellent program we learned that every citizen has a role in education, so essential to our survival as a free and powerful nation.

One of Best

"Wide World" (NBC-TV) took us on a fascinating dry-run alert against sudden enemy attack in "Force for Survival." Military leaders emphasized in this absorbing examination of our national defenses that military might is essential to our survival as a free and peaceful nation.

"See It Now" (CBS-TV) offered one of its best shows of the season in probing the question of "Statehood for Alaska and Hawaii?" In covering every side of the complex problem, the program left one viewer with the feeling that the cause of those who desire statehood is just and urgent—if not quite essential to survival.

The gripping story of several fellows who failed to survive was told on "Twentieth Century" (CBS-TV) in "Trial at Nuremberg." The filmed highlights of the trial of the Nazi war criminals were especially evocative in studies of the faces of the men on trial.

For viewers of "See It Now" who may have thought they misunderstood some of the remarks of Sen. George Malone (R-Nev.), an opponent of statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, here is the transcript record:

Malone to Edward R. Murrow: "I was happy to get your call from New York because I felt sorry for Ed Murrow at times because he's housed in New York. He prepares his program in New York and if there's any city in the United States more dangerous to the United States than Washington, D. C., it's New York." Murrow: "Why?"

Riding for Fall

Malone: "Because they're all internationalists. They build those buildings so high over there, you know, that they can see the nations of Europe and Asia easier than they can those little states west of the Hudson River, and then you have a clique there that takes it off the top—10 per cent over-ride no matter which way it goes through the port. So you have your nice clubs and you have your bankers—you have everything and you just think you're doing well, but you're riding for a fall, and while they're making those windows in those buildings harder to climb out of, you'll get out all right when this hits you."

Malone: "When what hits us?" Murrow: "The greatest depression in history. It's started now."

Murrow: "Well, speaking of New York and what you had to say about New Yorkers, would you advocate throwing New York out of the union?"

Malone: "It's been proposed but I don't propose it. I just say don't let 'em run the United States. I think we've got to elect a president without New York."

Poughkeepsie Win Over Newburgh Puts Kingston in 'A' Tie

Pioneers Romp 64 to 48, Three Way Tie Possible

By TONY CORAPI
Freeman Sports Staff

Poughkeepsie High cagers dumped in a phenomenal wave of its outside shots last night in handing Newburgh a sound 64 to 48 lacing in the Free Academy field house and throw the race among the league's Class A schools up for grabs.

The Pioneers' victory put them a step closer of creating a three-way deadlock with the Goldbacks and Kingston. The latter two are currently tied for first place in the Class A race and third place in the DUSO.

Three-Way Tie

However, a Bridge City victory tomorrow night at Middletown, will produce that tie and force a playoff of some sort which District 9 officials will decide today. It appears that one team will draw a bye in the event of a three-way tie, with the other two hooked in an elimination. Then a drawing for top team will most likely be held.

This expedient measure is necessitated because the second place team has to play Nyack of Rockland County before the start of the sectionals on Tuesday.

Set Blistering Pace

At any rate, while Coach Sam Kalloch's boys were setting a blistering pace with shots from the corners, the Goldbacks moved the ball around looking for that "chippie," which in many cases never came.

Coach George "Lanky" Masterson had his boys follow that pattern faithfully, regardless of the score. It worked well during the first half, which ended in a 30-30 deadlock.

But three quick baskets early in the third period by the boys from across the river, followed by two more by Joe Molinaro and Pat McKenna before Newburgh could score gave the Pioneers a commanding 10 point lead.

Move Away

The spread was more than enough on the basis of the type of game Newburgh was playing and the torrid shooting pace which the visitors set from start to finish.

Coach Masterson, however, was at a disadvantage without Roy Riley who played for several minutes in the second period with a heavily bandaged hand. Riley, an excellent rebounder and scorer, was useless and should have been kept on the bench.

Molinaro Spark

In his condition, he was no match for the rebounding prowess of the Pioneers who were sparked by Molinaro. The junior ace hit a tremendous average from the side as did McKenna and Dick DePew.

The Kallochen hit 29 goals from the outside and tallied its only drive with seconds left. In contrast, the Goldbacks failed to hit once from the outside, and tallied all of its double-deckers from underneath.

Halt Coonan

Dick Coonan started as if he were going to have a field day, but Kalloch tightened his defense against him after he had scored 13 points in the first half. He was held to four points in the last two quarters.

In fact, Newburgh scored only one field goal and four foul shots in the final period. They trailed 49 to 42 at the three quarter mark, but like the three stanza, three minutes went by before they were able to score. Its only field goal was by Ben King late in the period.

Tom Wall, Molinaro and McKenna got the game out of reach early in the final period by alternating long shots. The Pioneers put on a freeze towards the end which lasted three minutes. But up to then they played a rapid fire type of game of long passes and shooting.

Molinaro and McKenna each had 16 for the victors while DePew countered with 13. Coonan topped the scoring with 17.

YMCA Playoff Tilts To Caruso, Balotin

Caruso's Insurance and Balotin advanced in the YMCA playoffs last night with victories on the "Y" court. The Insurance-men clipped Boulevard Gulf, 95 to 72, and Balotin R/x edged Backs, 66 to 59.

Promise Land and Tony's will play tonight at 7 o'clock. Caruso's vie in the second game.

Phil DeCicco sparked the Insurance team's victory with 32 points. The winners took a 23-14 first period lead and coasted the rest of the way.

Balotin followed a similar pattern in their win, but they had to thwart off a fast rush by the opposition to preserve their triumph.

Favored to capture the playoff among the seven teams with the lower win and loss record, Balotin was led by Gorman's 23 points. Orr had 16 and Van Wagenen 15 for the losers.

Ease Fast Ball, Roberts Told

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies can become a 20-game winner again once he becomes convinced he no longer can fog his fast ball by the hitters.

That's the considered opinion of Whitlow Wyatt, former mound star of the Brooklyn Dodgers, now regarded as one of the ablest pitching coaches in the major leagues. "Roberts is still a fine pitcher despite his poor record last year," said Wyatt, who quit as Philadelphia coach during the winter to take a similar position with Milwaukee. "His final mark of 10 victories and 22 defeats may not show it but I thought he pitched real good ball in the final three weeks of the season. I honestly feel he can become a big winner again if he adds a pitch, like a slider, a screwball or a knuckler."

Roberts, only 31, should be at the peak of his career. But the six-time 20-game winner has lost 40 games in the last two years while winning only 29.

First Home Run

Babe Ruth hits his first home run in professional baseball during a game at Fayetteville, N. C., in March of 1914. An official marker commemorates the event there.

Morvich collected $42,750 when he won the first Pimlico Futurity in 1921.

BRADENTON, Fla.—(NEA)—Henry Aaron doesn't want to play center field, but the Braves' meat and potato man appears stuck with the assignment for the next 10 years.

He'd be there even if pulled cords which required an operation on his knee did not threaten Bill Bruton's career. Bruton did not pack enough authority at bat to play the outfield for a championship club. Milwaukee did not win with him there in four attempts.

WHEN BRUTON DROPPED out in July, Aaron took over in center field. He became an old pro at an early age. Then Bob Hazel came up from Wichita to bat .407 as the right fielder and supply the difference.

It will be years before the Braves find another swatter like Aaron, if ever. And they'll look a long while before locating a man who can play center as well, let alone lead the league in home runs and runs-batted-in.

"I'll play it if they ask me to, but I don't like center field," insisted Aaron, taking time out from a pepper game with Eddie Mathews at Bradenton's Braves Field.

"He'll play anywhere, just so long as he can hit," commented Mathews.

"I'm more comfortable in right field. That's where I want to play," said the quiet, soft-spoken Aaron, now articulate enough to be a public relations man for a Milwaukee brewery during the off-season.

"MOVING FROM RIGHT to center field is like switching from pitching to catching," continued Aaron, at 24 the most valuable player in the National League.

I asked Hank if he felt that the more complex duties of a center fielder and the required wider range might affect his hitting. The reply was in the negative.

"Nothing would affect his hitting," smiled Mathews. "I'm tired of being switched around," Aaron went on. "They've been doing that to me since I broke in. You're struggling in a strange position and are likely to make mistakes."

Like a number of celebrated ballplayers before him, Aaron broke in as a shortstop with Eau Claire of the Northern League in 1952. The next year he led the South Atlantic League in everything but hotel accommodations as a second baseman.

WHEN THE BRAVES PUT Aaron in the outfield in the spring of 1954, they were sorely in need of a second baseman and a veteran scout said he believed Henry would fill the bill. I recalled this to the youngster.

"The scout had better not see any more ballplayers so wrong," said Aaron. "If they kept me on second base, I'd still be in the minors. What was wrong with me at second base? Everything. I didn't like those guys sliding into me. I just wasn't a second baseman."

Aaron played right and left field for the Braves with a spot of second basing in 1955. Bruton had to be badly injured to get him in center field, where he belongs.

Aaron was reminded that all the classic ballplayers in the outfield played center field—right down to Joe DiMaggio, Duke Snider, Mickey Mantle and Willie Mays. It was pointed out that Henry had a superior show window there, could be considerably more valuable to the club.

"They can have center field," said Henry Aaron. "He'll take it," concluded Eddie Mathews, "just so long as he can hit."

Harlem Globetrotters Rate as World's Greatest Sports Attraction-Bar None

Television, gymnasiums or travel agencies, the Harlem Globetrotters, who play the Honolulu Surf Riders at municipal auditorium Monday, March 10 at 8 p. m., are a top-drawer attraction in any of the three.

Combination gymnasts, vaudevillians, and world travelers, the globetrotters have thrilled millions in presenting their antics in this nation and 26 foreign countries.

The March 10 date will mark their third appearance in Kingston but repetition has never diminished the delight and guffaws they draw from an audience.

Basketball expert Bill Mokray of the Converse basketball year book lists an annual attendance of 142,848,698 in the United States and an additional 15,280,925 for 26 foreign countries making a world total of 158,129,623.

Outdraw Everything

Comparative figures show that the Globetrotters' magnetic appeal outdraw whole conferences and leagues.

Their clever performance also solidified their popularity with the living room audience, the most apparent evidence of which was demonstrated Oct. 21, 1957 when they performed on the Steve Allen television show.

For the second straight year the show's rating zoomed to a new high, a case history with other shows including Ed Sullivan's, Garry Moore's, What's My Line and others.

Games Televised

Several times their games have been televised in their entirety with audiences estimated high in the millions. In England on a show telecast throughout the British Isles they established a record-breaking 89 per cent.

Owner-coach Abe Saperstein has some ideas in mind for future TV appearances that promised to be unique. The Globetrotters have a steady path beaten to their door by networks, stations and advertising agencies.

There will be no preliminary game here March 10 in deference to the extended professional entertainment program which the Globetrotters present in conjunction with the game.

That was the second knockout of the 17-bout card, which saw Tommy Carcone, New York heavyweight, flatten Carl Del Rio, Newark, N. J., in 1:30 of the first round.

He will meet Washington's Charley Hood for the right to face the winner of the Dave Carey-Bill Hampton semi-finals in the finals tomorrow night.

Cunningham will receive the award at the Basketball Writers Dinner here March 16, when awards also will be presented to Woody Sauldsberry of the Philadelphia Warriors as the pro rookie of the year and to Dolph Schayes of Syracuse as the outstanding professional player.

Jumping to a 10-6 first period lead, the champs boosted its spread to 35 to 26 at the third period. But the margin was too much for the locals to overcome, and although they got to within two points, the shooting of Kerin who tallied 24, was more than the visitors had bargained for.

Colman's ace was Lucas who tallied 17 points and led the fourth period onslaught which netted the locals 16 points. Millard and Mickey played excellent ball in the losing cause.

Any of Four Streaking Teams Could Capture NCAA Pennant

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press

It's been a streaking team that has bagged the NCAA basketball championship the last three years, so today's advance tip might be to watch Temple, San Francisco, Cincinnati and possibly Notre Dame, a quartet winnin' like the wind.

All four are rolling NCAA-bound on winning streaks, Temple with 22, San Francisco (and who misses Bill Russell?) with 20, Cincinnati with 15 and Notre Dame, the Paddy-come-lately of the bunch, with 10.

They're following the tournament pattern set by San Francisco in winning the national collegiate title in 1955 and 1956 and repeated by North Carolina's Tar Heels last season.

Dons Won 21 in Row

In '55, the Dons went up to the NCAA cross-country madhouse with 21 in a row, then swept through five tournament games to become champs. That carry-over string had been stretched to 50 when the unbeaten Dons of '56 went into the post-season scrambling. It was up to 55 when they disposed of Iowa in the finals to wrap up their second straight crown.

Last year, unbeaten North Carolina won 27 straight up to national tournament time and added five more for the championship.

None of this year's already-qualified red-hots blew over opponents last night, but all four managed to win and keep their streaks going.

Third-ranked Cincinnati, in the NCAA as the Missouri Valley Conference champion, snapped NIT-bound Dayton's string at 16 with a 70-66 decision at Cincinnati Garden. All-America Oscar Robertson, a decoy for the first 12 minutes, stepped in to score 27 points.

Rogers Selected

Guy Rodgers—who was named to the Associated Press All-American today with Robertson, Kansas' Wilt Chamberlain, Elgin Baylor of Seattle and Don Henson of Pitt—fired 20 points in Temple's 58-51 victory over Lehigh. Temple is rated fifth nationally and will play in the NCAA as the Middle Atlantic Conference representative.

Fourth-ranked San Francisco, again the West Coast Athletic Conference king, downed College of the Pacific 69-59 for a 24-1 season record, and Notre Dame, No. 7, closed out a 22-4 regular season as Tommy Hawkins scored 22 and Johnny McCarthy 21 in a 75-71 defeat of DePaul.

Wagner (NY) defeated Franklin Marshall in the Middle Atlantic Small College Playoffs, 87-60, and will be host to the Eastern Regional of the NCAA Small School Tourney March 7-8.

St. Francis (Pa.), heading for the NIT, snapped Villanova's home court streak at 81 games with a 70-64 decision.

Chambers School held Marblertown to two points in the last quarter to overcome an early deficit and win 31-27 in an elementary school contest.

Marblertown outthrust the opposition throughout the first half and had a commanding 17-12 lead at halftime.

Paced by Benson and Caunitz, Chambers began to catch up in the third quarter and in the final stanza scored nine points while holding the opposing club to two free throws.

It was the rebounding of Basget and Geisler that proved too much for the shorter Marblertown team. Caunitz was high scorer with nine points. Turner and Smith paced Marblertown with eight each.

The win leaves Chambers with a five and four record. They play their final game Monday at Tilton.

Bonus Star to Hurl Senators Exhibition Opener With Athletics

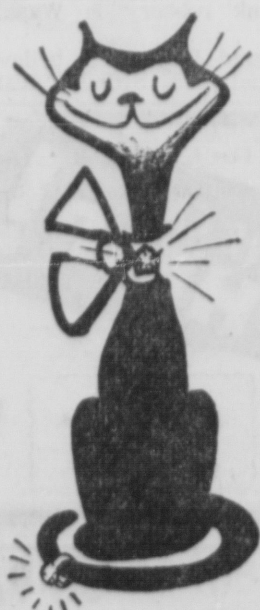

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Manager Cookie Lavagetto says he'll start bonus baby Ralph Lamenti when Washington opens its exhibition schedule Saturday against Kansas City.

"He's in fine shape and I'm going to find out if he's really a big league pitcher," said Lavagetto.

Roy Sievers, who ended his hold-out last week by signing for $36,000, put on a uniform for the first time yesterday and went through a long workout. Sievers probably will sit out Saturday's contest.

Stilt Tops Collegiate Cage All-America Five

NEW YORK (AP)—His team failed to make the NCAA championship tournament this year, but the big 7-foot Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas played better than ever and tops the 1958 collegiate basketball All-America announced by The Associated Press today.

Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's sensational sophomore; Elgin Baylor of Seattle; Guy Rodgers of Temple, and Don Hannon of Pittsburgh complete the All-America selected for the AP by a vote of 316 sportswriters and broadcasters from every section of the country.

Lead Voting
Chamberlain, Robertson, Baylor and Rodgers led the voting by a wide margin.
Hannon, the little 5-8½ flash, hailed as the best Pitt player in 30 years, did not threaten the top four in the voting, but was far ahead of Bob Boozer, Kansas State's star. Boozer was sixth in the voting and thus headed the second team.

297 Firsts
On the basis of five points for a first team vote and two for a second team placing, Chamberlain polled 1,502 points with 297 firsts. Robertson got 1,330 and 256 firsts; Baylor 1,327 and 249 firsts; Rodgers 975 and 172 firsts and Hen-non 717 and 169 firsts. They were the only players to get more than 100 firsts.

Boozer, with 446 points and 62 firsts, has as his second team mates Archie Dees of Indiana (351 points), Bailey Howell of Mississippi State (330), Lloyd Sharrar of West Virginia (256) and Pete Brennan of North Carolina (218).

Hawkins Named
The writers named a third team of Jerry West, West Virginia (206); Tommy Kearns, North Carolina (187); Mike Farmer, San Francisco (171); Johnny Green, Michigan State (150) and Tom Hawkins, Notre Dame (114).

Barney Cable of Bradley; Hub Reed of Oklahoma City; Jack Parr of Kansas State; Red Murrell of Drake; Jack Kubiszyn of Alabama; Leo Byrd of Marshall; Dave Gambee of Oregon State; and Boo Ellis of Niagara headed an honorable mention list of 21.

Players on the first three teams will receive certificates from The Associated Press.

Amo Bessone, Michigan State hockey coach, is chairman of the NCAA ice hockey rules committee.

Eddie Machen, Redding Calif., heavyweight, played fullback for the Shasta Union High School eleven.

Herman Blast on L.A. Prima Donnas Draws Bavasi Retort

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN
The Associated Press

The baseball report is more of a medical report.

Billy Herman, former Brooklyn second baseman and now a Milwaukee coach, called the Los Angeles edition of the Dodgers "prima donnas, pouters and complacent athletes who have to be forced to work. The club got a transfer, now it needs a transfusion of young blood."

It's a "revelation the way the players hustle," on the world champion Braves, said Herman yesterday in Bradenton, Fla. Herman, who coached at Brooklyn last season, added, "You just don't see any hustle in the Dodger camp."

Told about Herman's remarks, Buzzy Bavasi, Dodger general manager, said at Vero Beach, "That's why we changed coaches."

Star invalid is Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox slugger. His doctor looked at an x-ray of Ted's lame left ankle yesterday in Sarasota, Fla., and said the batting champion should be in perfect shape in about three weeks.

Billy Bruton, Milwaukee center-fielder, has a game knee. His doctor said he was pleased about the knee's condition "but it still will be quite a while before he is able to have full workouts."

Test Comes Early
Plain-talking Bobby Bragan, Cleveland manager, assigned Herb Score to pitch against the San Francisco Giants Saturday in Tucson, Ariz. Score hasn't pitched since he was hit in the eye by a batted ball last May.

"He's our number one, let's start him off that way," said Bragan.

The Giants took team pictures in Phoenix, Ariz. The "team," in the person of Willie Mays, wasn't in uniform. He was running a fever.

Don McMahon, 28, Braves reliever, was the lone contract signer yesterday. He left the Milwaukee team with four holdouts, including World Series biggie Lew Burdette.

Granny Hamner, who started last season pitching for Philadelphia, may start this season at third. He usually plays second or short. He was philosophical about the possible shift.

"It's all in the bat. If you hit, they'll find some place for you to play."

Collegiate Hurler Sent to Albany

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP)—Norman Bass, a 19-year-old college pitcher newly signed with the Kansas City Athletics, will play with the Albany Senators of the Class A Eastern Baseball League next season.

Bass, after being declared ineligible for spring sports at the College of the Pacific, signed with the Athletics yesterday. The Senators are an affiliate of the Kansas City club.

The 6-foot-3, 205-pound hurler had a 2-2 pitching season with OCP, while his record at Vallejo High School was 16-1.

Gentile Hope of Beating Out Gil Hodges, Unlikely

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The fellow with probably the most discouraging outlook in the Los Angeles Dodger camp is Jim Gentile, a tall young man from San Francisco.

He is a first baseman, and all he has to do to win a job is beat out Gil Hodges, which is like saying all you have to do to walk across the ocean is drain it dry first.

Walter Alston had been asked if he planned to carry two first basemen. He looked a little startled.

"Well," he said, "a second first baseman never has been one of our problems. Hodges has been a pretty rugged man in the past. He's in there 153 or 154 games. If we have to carry three catchers, and some extra infielders, it's pretty hard to carry an extra first baseman when you don't figure to need him."

"And in case Hodges did have to be out for a week or so, you always can bring up someone quickly to fill in."

Hodges missed only four games last year.

Big, strong, rugged and uncomplicated is the veteran who can be counted upon to hit between 20 and 40—maybe more—home runs each year, and who for seven straight years drove in more than 100 runs.

All in all, Gentile at the moment has one big handicap. He happens to play first base.

Now in Coast Jail

BUFFALO (AP)—Fred Berman, accused bank robber who escaped in 1956 from a hospital, pantless and suffering from ulcers, now is in a Pacific Coast jail, local police say.

Berman, 39, was arrested here May 19, 1956, and charged with first-degree robbery in connection with a local bank holdup. He was found under a porch with $721 stuffed in his shirt.

He was confined to a hospital to be treated for what authorities said was a severe case of ulcers. In June, he jumped out of a hospital window clad only in shorts, shoes and a T-shirt.

Yesterday, Erie County Sheriff Robert Glasser said he had learned that Berman is serving 12 years on a conviction of attempted bank robbery in Washington State.

He said Berman is believed to be a native of Sydney, Australia.

Officials of the Indian Little League covering the Kerkhonkson and Accord areas last night increased the team rosters from 12 to 15 players.

Haywood Johnson, president, announced that the boost was necessary because of increased activity among boys of Little League age.

Other issues discussed were the incorporation of the Little League and advisability of acquiring sponsors for the four teams. Further discussion will take place at the next meeting, at which time a schedule will be drafted.

Rondout Valley Little League and the Rondout Valley Babe Ruth League will hold a joint meeting Friday, March 7, at 7:30 p. m. in the Rosendale fire hall.

The purpose of this meeting will be to form the Rondout Valley Athletic Association which will co-ordinate all youth activities in the towns of Marlborough and Rosendale.

All interested parties are requested to attend.

Warriors in Good Spot to Clinch Playoff Berth

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia Warriors, having shaken a mild slump, are in an enviable position today to clinch a National Basketball Assn. playoff spot in the next few days.

Beaten by Cincinnati and Minneapolis last weekend, the Warriors bounced back to defeat the Royals 97-91 in the opener of last night's doubleheader in Madison Square Garden. The New York Knickerbockers kept alive their slim chances of catching Philadelphia by downing the Boston Celtics 104-99 in the second game.

The Philadelphia victory reduced to two their magic number for a third place clinching over New York in the Eastern Division. Any combination of two Warrior successes for New York reverses will qualify Philadelphia for the post-season competition.

The Warriors can wrap up the No. 3 position by tomorrow night. The Knicks meet the Nationals in Syracuse tonight and Philadelphia is host to Cincinnati tomorrow night.

Jack George was Philadelphia's big gun last night. He connected on a three-pointer with 3:40 left in the game to snap an 87-87 deadlock.

The nightcap was hard fought. Ray Felix of New York and Tom Heinsohn of Boston traded punches midway in the second period. And seconds later, Carl Braun of the Knicks and Frank Ramsey of the Colts collided as they battled for possession of the ball. Ramsey sustained a mild concussion and cuts inside of the mouth.

National Hockey League pucks are kept frozen at 10 degrees before games to cut down the rolling. They cost $7.50 per dozen.

First time a title changed hands in Chicago Stadium was in 1925 when Paul Berlenbach defeated Mike McTigue for the light heavyweight crown.

Expanding Problems

DETROIT (AP)—Church building experts and architects, meeting here Feb. 18-20, reported that the problems of planning a modern church involve not just a place of worship—but also space for parking cars, for nurseries, for a dating place for youth, and for a club room for elderly folk.

Philosophical
DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Some children are way ahead of their parents.

The parents of a college girl home from school for a between-semester vacation complained that they saw so little of her. As she drove off with her boy friend to spend Sunday away from her family, her younger sister commented:

"Look at it this way: It isn't that you have lost a daughter but that you have gained a car."

Double Life

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—A study reported by the Rev. Dr. Richard E. Lentz, a Disciples of Christ family-life specialist, shows that a third of all men and women who marry have been married previously and 96 per cent of them have former spouses living.

QUESTION: When you buy a dog these days is it necessary to buy insurance which covers his actions?

ANSWER: No, it isn't legally necessary but Comprehensive Personal Liability Insurance which covers your legal liability for actions of pets is so inexpensive and protects you and your entire family from so many other hazards that it's very wise to get it.

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE or OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.

SETS SERVICE RECORD — Sen. Carl Hayden, 80-year-old Arizona Democrat, is congratulated by Senators Knowland (R-Calif.) and Johnson (D-Tex.) in Washington on start of his 47th year in Congress. He has served 15 years in the House and 31 in the Senate.

SHRINE ADDITION — Underground basilica to accommodate 20,000 pilgrims nears completion at Lourdes, France, where centennial of Saint Bernadette's visions is being celebrated. The prefabricated concrete structure is 656 feet long and has vault span of 197 feet.

HI-FI ARCHITECTURE — Pavilion designed for a radio company exhibit by the famed French architect Le Corbusier takes final shape at Brussels World Fair site. His design is conceived to provide the best possible acoustics for display of the electronic equipment.

ROCK-A-BYE PATIENT — It's out of the nursery and into the hospital for the "rock-a-bye." At least that's true for some stomach ulcer patients who will receive a gentle rocking on this X-ray examination table designed by General Electric. For some examinations of this disorder the patient is rolled and tilted in a variety of positions. This allows the radiologist to see the barium, swallowed by the patient, as it flows from one part of the stomach to the other. Dr. Richard Schatzki, radiologist of Brookline, Mass., writing in Your Radiologist magazine, says, "gentle rocking of the patient will bring the proper amount of coating over the area desired and leave the ulcer filled with barium."

Bee Aerators

Dr. Willis H. Carrier is credited with inventing air conditioning about a half century ago, but bees beat him by many centuries. The insects carry water to the hives, where worker bees fan it with their wings to keep the honey cool.

Moderate, Mild Weather to Stay Through Weekend

ALBANY (AP)—The extended forecasts for New York State, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p. m. today to 7 p. m. Monday:

Eastern New York — Moderate to mild weather will continue through the weekend. Temperatures will average 5 to 10 degrees above normal with no pronounced changes during the period. Precipitation is expected to average around one inch or more, occurring mostly as rain on Friday and again about Sunday or Monday. Fair to good conditions for maple sap flow at the beginning but poor beginning about Friday.

Western New York—A mild, wet period is indicated with temperatures averaging 6 to 9 degrees above normal. Cloudy and slightly warmer Thursday, followed by wet snow or rain. Mild Friday and over the weekend, with periods of occasional rain possibly ending on Monday. About one inch of precipitation is expected.

Temperature normals—Normal temperatures over Upstate New York now range from early morning lows of 13 to 18 in the north, 18 to 24 in the central and west and 22 to 28 in the southeast. Afternoon highs are 32 to 38 in the north, 36 to 40 in the central and west portions and 36 to 42 in the southeast.

Food Prices Climb

NEW YORK (AP)—Wholesale food prices, as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet food index, continued to head skyward this week, reaching their highest point in more than three years.

At $6.68 the index compared with $6.60 last week and was at its peak since a $6.69 figure in the week ended Feb. 15, 1955. The current figure is 9.7 per cent higher than the year-ago week's $6.09.

By comparison with 1957, the index has never dropped below $6.41 this year while last year's range was $6.08 to $6.45.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Higher this week were ham, wheat, corn, rye, oats, barley, tea, eggs, potatoes, beef, steers and hogs.

Lower were bellies, lard, cottonseed oil, flour, sugar, milk, cocoa and lambs.

HELD BY POLICE — John Pohl, 51, a South Boston bachelor shoe worker, is being held by Boston police in connection with the telephone threat on life of Archbishop Richard J. Cushing. Pohl was booked under a law making it a felony to make false threats for the purpose of creating anxiety. (AP Wirephoto)

Action Dismissed

An action for malpractice brought in Supreme Court by William E. Sickler of Kingston against Dr. Jack Lehner of Kingston was dismissed at the close of the plaintiff's case on the grounds there was insufficient proof to sustain the charge. The action was commenced Tuesday before Justice Kenneth S. MacAffer and a jury. Sickler, injured in an automobile accident, charged negligent treatment. A motion made at the close of plaintiff's case for dismissal of the complaint was granted. Guido Napoletano and Charles Saccoman appeared for plaintiff and Martin, Clearwater and Bell of New York City with Charles Gaffney of counsel appeared for defendant.
